Art Reed, park Ranger, was patrolling the area, which has been under surveillance by Sheriff's Authorities for the past year, when he noticed a car parked along the roadway.

Searching the area, Ranger Reed noticed the male and female subjects along the creek bank. Reed then notified Pickaway County Sheriff's Authorities.

Arriving at the scene, Deputy Deal watched the 17-year-old boy and 15-year-old girl working along the creek. Starting back to the automobile, the two youths noticed Deal and then disposed of what they had in their hands, telling the deputy it was old trash.

Reed stayed with the teenagers while Deal went down to the creek bank, finding a bag containing marijuana, cigarette papers and a paring knife.

The RAFB youths admitted that the marijuana was theirs. Getting permission from the boy to search his car, Deputy Deal found two rolls of marijuana under the dash and a plant.

Though the youths would not state what they were doing around the creek bank, Deal continued the investigation and found eight transplanted marijuana plants, which the girl had allegedly been growing in her home.

Detective Thompson took the two subjects to the office to get statements from both of them.

Searching the park area, Deal found several hundred plants and three more areas where small seedlings were cultivating.

All areas were dug and brought to the Sheriff's Office to be used as evidence.

Israel To Get Atom Aid

JERUSALEM (AP) — The United States today promised Israel the same help in developing nuclear power that it plans to give Egypt.

President Nixon, in a joint communique with Premier Yitzhak Rabin, also reaffirmed America's commitment to longterm arms shipments to the Jewish state.

Nixon and Rabin said their two governments "will negotiate an agreement on cooperation in the field of nuclear energy, technology and the supply of fuel from the United States under agreed safeguards."

"This agreement will in particular take into account the intention of the government of Israel to purchase power reactors from the United States" to provide electricity for Israel's rapidly growing economy, the communique said.

Israel has had an agreement with the United States covering joint nuclear research for the past 15 years, and the communique said a provisional agreement would be made this month "on the further sale of nuclear fuel to Israel."

The wording of the communique paralleled that of one three days ago in which Nixon announced in Cairo the United States would supply nuclear reactors and fuel to Egypt for peaceful purposes.

The agreement had been forecast earlier today at a news conference by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger.

Kissinger also sought to quiet suspicions in Israel and the U.S. Congress that the Egyptians would use the American nuclear aid to produce nuclear weapons. He said the U.S. government would "make doubly sure there aren't any loopholes" in its agreement with Egypt.

The secretary said there never were any such questions about the similar agreements the United States has with nearly 30 other nations until India set off its first nuclear explosion last month. But Kissinger said India's nuclear program was aided by Canada, and Canada's safeguards are not as good as those of the United States.

Nixon flew to Israel from Damascus, where he and President Hafez Assad announced the resumption of Syrian-Israeli diplomatic relations, which Syria broke during the 1967 Arab-Israeli war. Of the seven Arab nations that broke with the U.S. then, only Iraq has not restored the ties.

The American president in his farewell remarks to the Syrians did not second Assad's call for Israel's withdrawal from all occupied Arab lands and "the restoration of Palestinian rights." Instead he said, as in the other Arab capitals he has visited, that the problems of the area are complicated and the United States is "relentlessly committed" to finding a solution.

Nixon, the first American president to visit Israel, received a warm official welcome on his airport arrival, and an estimated 100,000 persons cheered him along the road to Jerusalem.

The President, his wife and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger called on former Premier Golda Meir at her home, and then Nixon and Kissinger met with Mrs. Meir's successor, Premier Yitzhak Rabin, and members of his government.

Kissinger reviewed Nixon's visits to Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Syria and told the Israeli leaders the U.S. efforts to improve relations with those countries present no danger to Israel.

Nixon emphasized this in his speech Sunday night, declaring: "Under no circumstances will the fact that the United States is seeking a better relationship with some of Israel's neighbors mean that our friendship or support for Israel ... is any less."

He said Israel's security must never be endangered and the four Arab-Israeli wars were necessary "in order to see that this state survived."

Nixon spends tonight in Jordan, the fifth and last stop on his Middle East tour. En route back to Washington, he will spend Tuesday night in the Azores, the Portuguese islands in the mid-Atlantic, for his first meeting with the leader of the recent Portuguese revolution, President Antonio de Spínola.

Jordanian officials indicated King Hussein would urge Nixon to press the Israelis to withdraw immediately, without waiting for peace negotiations in Geneva, from part of the territory on the west bank of the Jordan river which Israel took in the 1967 war. Jordanian officials say Hussein wants Israel to pull back about six miles from the river to create a demilitarized buffer zone similar those Israel has with Egyptian and Syrian troops.

KATHY ULAND

Kathy Uland, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin J. Uland, 592 Oakland Terrace, was selected Maiden of Roses at pageant ceremonies Sunday in the Whetstone High School auditorium, Columbus.

Selected from 35 candidates from seven counties, Miss Uland will represent the Columbus Park of Roses Foundation at Columbus and surrounding activities.

The Foundation presented Maiden Uland a $1,000 scholarship. She also received a gold watch from the Men's rose club, rose pin from Myers Jewelers, trophy and flowers from Allied Florists.

A rotating trophy will be presented to Circleville High School for one year.

The candidates, selected on basis of school and community activities, poise and beauty, were interviewed Saturday by the selection committee and attended a dance that night.

The 1972 Pumpkin Show Queen will be a part of the Board of Park of Roses during her reign.

The 1974 CHS graduate was Miss Circleville before her Pumpkin Show reign and was first runner-up in the Ohio Festivals contest.

Commenting about the park, Kathy stated, "It's such a beautiful place, I hope I can represent it with honor."

She plans to attend Ohio State University this fall majoring in pharmacy.

Jill Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Long, Route 1, New Holland was selected as second attendant of the Roses Court, at Sunday's ceremonies.

A 1974 Westfall High School graduate, Miss Long plans to attend Otterbein College.

Commenting about the pageant, Jill said, "I was really surprised. I was especially happy for Kathy. It was fun meeting the other girls."

The Maiden of Roses and court will be presented to the Columbus City Council, 5:30 p.m. tonight at the City Hall. The public is invited.

Impeachment Panel Cuts Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee is nearing the end of its impeachment inquiry, with only about five of the original 55 allegations against President Nixon still under active examination.

The Watergate cover-up, Nixon's taxes and charges that the administration used the Internal Revenue Service for political purposes are the major areas still under review. The cover-up inquiry stems from the break-in two years ago today of Democratic National Committee headquarters in the Watergate building complex.

Use of wiretaps in domestic surveillance remains a concern for a sizeable number of committee members, and the search for a link between Nixon's decision to raise milk prices and campaign contributions by the dairy industry awaits the testimony of former White House aide Charles W. Colson.

Some members still question the legality of the secret bombing of Cambodia ordered by Nixon, but a majority appears convinced it is not an impeachable offense.

The presentation of evidence is expected to conclude this week with a wrap-up of the cover-up and an examination of Nixon's income-tax payments in 1969-72.

Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., has scheduled closed hearings for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and said he will meet at night, if necessary, to conclude them this week.

Dozens of allegations announced as under investigation last March were dropped without any evidence even being presented, and many others were given only a passing glance.

Meanwhile, former Deputy Atty. Gen. William D. Ruckelshaus said Sunday there are other surprises ahead in the Watergate scandal. Ruckelshaus, who was fired from the Justice Department Oct. 20 after refusing to fire Archibald Cox as special prosecutor, was interviewed on CBS' "Face the Nation" program.

He did not reveal what future Watergate developments could be expected, but said: "There is information that I'm aware of that has not yet become public" or perhaps been brought before the impeachment inquiry.

In the same interview, Ruckelshaus said he believes Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger should be cleared in the wiretapping controversy. He said his familiarity with the case tended to confirm Kissinger's explanation of his role in the wiretapping.

The Supreme Court agreed Saturday to consider arguments by White House lawyers that a grand jury exceeded its authority when it named the President as an indicted co-conspirator in the cover-up.

However, the high court refused a motion by both special prosecutor Leon Jaworski and presidential attorney James D. St. Clair to make public the entire portion of the grand jury proceedings which were attached to its listing of Nixon and others as among those involved.

2nd Anniversary Of Watergate Break-In WASHINGTON (AP) — Police Sgt. Paul Leeper drew his gun and jumped onto a desk in Democratic National Committee headquarters.

"I looked over this glass partition. There were five men standing in front of a desk with their hands either raised above their heads or at least shoulder-high wearing blue surgical gloves. . . . "We ordered them out from behind the desk and lined them up along the wall, facing the wall, hands on the wall, feet spread apart and at that time I informed them who we were, they were under arrest for burglary and advised them of their rights. . . ."

It was a heady time for Richard Nixon, who was relaxing that weekend in Key Biscayne, Fla. Earlier that year he had made his historic trip to China and he had every reason to be confident that the following November he would win a second four years in the presidency.

Former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell had taken command of the President's re-election campaign and was in Los Angeles. The campaign treasury was overflowing.

The Democrats seemed certain to nominate Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, whom both Nixon and Mitchell were convinced would be their easiest opponent. That is, unless McGovern proved a stalking horse for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, the Democrat they feared the most.

Not even the break-in at Democratic party headquarters ruffled the outward calm of the Nixon campaign. "A third-rate burglary" not worth commenting on, said presidential Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler.

But as time passed that calm facade would crack, widen and reveal far more of the secrets of the Nixon administration than the burglars had succeeded in disclosing about the Democrats.

June 17, 1972, would become the most easily remembered date of Richard Nixon's presidency—and by the first anniversary of the break-in, no one was calling it a third-rate burglary.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., was starring on daytime television as chairman of the Senate Watergate committee hearings. Archibald Cox, the crewcut Yankee law professor with a fondness for bow ties, was the special Watergate prosecutor. And most of the men who had held the real power during the first Nixon administration had resigned, such as H.R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman and former Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst had resigned. But one, former White House counsel John W. Dean III, had been fired.

Dean had a story to tell. Eight days after that first anniversary, he settled into the Watergate committee spotlight and in flat, unemotional tones related his belief that one of those who had conspired to cover up that involvement of Nixon campaign officials in the Watergate break-in was the President himself.

But how to prove whether Dean's story was true or false? The President declined invitations from Ervin and Cox to tell his side of the story. Testimony from Nixon loyalists conflicted with Dean's.

And then Alexander P. Butterfield told the Watergate committee of the existence of the White House taping system. Thus began the battle of subpoenas. It quickly became clear that Cox, a former solicitor general and legal scholar, represented the chief threat to the President's determination to guard the confidentiality of his discussions with aides.

Finally, on Oct. 20, 1973, after Cox had obtained two court rulings upholding his right to subpoena presidential tapes, Nixon fired the special prosecutor.

Within days, White House aides conceded they had misjudged the possible public reaction. Thousands of telegrams had poured into Washington demanding Nixon's impeachment. Three days after the firing, Nixon agreed to turn over the subpoenaed tapes.

But the impeachment process had begun. It was spurred on by the disclosure that two of the subpoenaed conversations did not exist and that a third was marred by an 18½-minute erasure that had wiped out the only discussion of Watergate.

A new special prosecutor, Leon Jaworski, took over. In March 1974, grand juries returned the major Watergate indictments. Facing criminal charges were those familiar names: Haldeman, Ehrlichman, Mitchell and former White House special counsel Charles W. Colson. With all his one-time closest advisers under indictment, the President suddenly appeared vulnerable.

The House Judiciary Committee joined the special prosecutor in demanding access to White House files. After a period of cooperation, the President drew the line. He had turned over the material needed for the full story of Watergate. He would turn over

But Jaworski and Rep. Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., chairman of the Judiciary Committee, didn't let up in their demands. In a dramatic bid to quiet their demands, Nixon released edited transcripts of 44 presidential conversations, giving them not only to Jaworski and Rodino but to the general public.

However, the transcripts gave a picture of a President who had sought to "keep the lid on the bottle," to contain the Watergate investigations. His position on the payment of hush money proved ambiguous. He often came across as a bitter and cynical man who yearned for a chance to retaliate against political opponents.

But had the President broken the law? Had he done anything that could be considered grounds for impeachment?

On the second anniversary, those were unanswered questions. And because they were unanswered, they overshadowed all the other questions of guilt or innocence that would be decided in the courts.

But there was one certainty. John Dean was a poor prophet when he told the President Feb. 28, 1973, that the Watergate break-in would end up "in the funny pages of the history books."

signed. But one, former White House counsel John W. Dean III, had been fired.

Dean had a story to tell. Eight days after that first anniversary, he settled into the Watergate committee spotlight and in flat, unemotional tones related his belief that one of those who had conspired to cover up that involvement of Nixon campaign officials in the Watergate break-in was the President himself.

But how to prove whether Dean's story was true or false? The President declined invitations from Ervin and Cox to tell his side of the story. Testimony from Nixon loyalists conflicted with Dean's.

And then Alexander P. Butterfield told the Watergate committee of the existence of the White House taping system. Thus began the battle of subpoenas. It quickly became clear that Cox, a former solicitor general and legal scholar, represented the chief threat to the President's determination to guard the confidentiality of his discussions with aides.

Finally, on Oct. 20, 1973, after Cox had obtained two court rulings upholding his right to subpoena presidential tapes, Nixon fired the special prosecutor.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market, apparently unable to see through the interest rate maze to rosier times, slipped lower today in light trading.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 5.72 at 837.37. Among the 1,383 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange, 693 declined, and 324 advanced. The Big Board's composite index of all its listed common stock was down .34 at 47.64.

Interest rates remained the investors' biggest concern, brokers said.

"The main fear is that they will go back up," said Robert Stovall of Reynolds Securities.

On the Amex, where the market-value index fell .16 to 83.84, the most-active issues was Sierra Pacific Industries, up 5 1/2 at 16 1/2.

Ramada Inns, down 1/4 at 5, led Big Board trading.

Police Investigate 2 Bike Accidents

Circleville Police investigated three weekend accidents in the city, two involving cars and bicycles.

Brett A. Brown, 320 Lewis Ave., was treated at Berger Hospital for minor injuries when his bike collided with a car driven by Barbara A. Ramey, 34, 209 Corwin St.

The accident occurred Sunday at 1:05 p.m. in the parking lot at Joe's Frosty Treat, N. Court St., when both vehicles were pulling into the lot.

Holly Garner, 13, 508 E. Ohio St., was not injured when her bicycle collided with a car driven by Deborah K. Savage, 20, Route 2, 2:55 p.m. Friday on E. Main St.

According to the report, both vehicles were traveling east on Main St. when the bike rider attempted to change directions.

Police charged Bobby W. Young, 22, 237 Logan St., with driving while intoxicated following a wild ride down N. Court St. Monday at 1:32 a.m.

Young and a passenger in his car, 19-year-old Terry Pearce of Circleville, were treated for minor injuries.

Pearce was hurt when he jumped from the vehicle prior to the first collision.

Police said Young drove off the right

Heavy Rain Lashes East Coast Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy rain drenched parts of the middle and southern Atlantic Coast states today, while unseasonably cool temperatures chilled the Midwest.

A downpour of nearly 4 inches hit Fort Bragg, N.C., during the night. More than an inch fell at Charlottesville, Va., Brunswick, Maine, and Dulles Airport outside Washington.

Cloudy skies and scattered rain spread from the northern Atlantic Coast through the Great Lakes region, while occasional thundershowers were reported in northern California and east of Amarillo, Tex., winds gusting up to 58 miles per hour.

Although fair weather prevailed over most of the nation, temperatures dropped considerably below normal from the Great Lakes states to the Ohio and Missouri rivers. Sunday's 57-degree high at South Bend, Ind., was the coolest maximum reading ever recorded for the date.

In the Plateau, however, temperatures soared and Boise, Idaho set a record high for Sunday with 104 degrees.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 95 at Blythe, Calif., to 42 at the Marquette County Airport in Upper Michigan.

Hold Meeting On Housing Discrimination

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Government officials met Saturday with Ohio attorneys to outline the legal recourse in cases of housing discrimination.

The one-day seminar, sponsored by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development and legal and scholastic organizations, was designed to inform attorneys about civil litigation in housing discrimination cases.

Kenneth Holbert, director of HUD's office of civil rights compliance and enforcement, told the attorneys that any person who feels he is a target of discrimination in housing can turn to the department for help.

"The normal concepts of who is the aggrieved person are much broader under the fair housing law," Holbert said.

Frank Schwelb, chief of the civil rights division housing section of the U.S. Department of Justice, called housing discrimination a "relic of slavery."

He told the legal seminar that housing discrimination had a "national philosophy," fortified during the early 1930s by such programs as the FHA, by which the government promoted segregation.

side of N. Court St., hitting a tree. The car continued through a yard, hit a park sign, went through two yards, crossed an alley, crashed into a telephone pole, and spun around three times before coming to rest in another yard.

The car was out of control for 123 feet.

Damage was reported by George Barnes, 619 N. Court St., who said his yard and tree suffered in the wreck; Lewis Holderman, 609 N. Court St., whose yard and front steps were damaged; Maxine Hughes, whose yard was damaged; and the City of Circleville which lost a street sign at N. Court and Highland Ave., a stop sign and a park sign.

Deputies Investigate Burglaries

Pickaway County Sheriff's deputies investigated four burglaries and a vandalism during the weekend.

Ralph Peters, Ashville, reported a brick was thrown through the windshield of his car while parked near the intersection of Wright and Bortz Streets. Damage was estimated at $225.

Willis Fleetwing Service Station of Orient reported a burglary of candy, cigarettes, sunglasses and other items with a total value of $193.31. Entry was gained by breaking a garage door window.

Harry Lewis of Derby reported his residence was entered and hand guns and money were stolen. The home was entered through an unlocked door while the family was away during the day. Total loss in the theft was estimated at $150 by Lewis.

Deercreek Auto Parts, Route 3, reported tires and rims valued at $25 were taken from the Route 23 auto salvage yard and some damage was done to another vehicle at the yard.

Gary Shaffer, Lockbourne, reported the theft of a coat from an unlocked car. He valued the coat at $60.

Woman Pleads Guilty To Hiding Husband

Mrs. Doris Showalter, Route 1, New Holland, appeared in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court this morning on a charge of obstructing justice. Mrs. Showalter pleaded guilty to the charge and the court ordered a pre-sentence report to be prepared by the Adult Parole Authority.

The charge arose after Mrs. Showalter told authorities her husband was not at her residence and an investigation of the premises with a search warrant revealed him hidden there. She was charged with hindering the apprehension of her husband who was a fugitive of the London Prison Farm.

Mainly About People

Mrs. John (Vernice) Hunt, 169 Town St., is a patient in the intensive care unit of Grant Hospital, Columbus.

Carl Orin, 676 E. Mound St., is a patient in room 614, Riverside Hospital, Columbus.

Edgar Harral, Route 4, has been dismissed from Grant Hospital, Columbus.

Local Funds Distributed

The distribution of $6,104,004.52 in Local Government Funds money, with Pickaway County receiving $12,818.78 of that amount, was reported by State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson.

The money is derived monthly by taking 3.5 per cent of state collections of personal, corporation and sales taxes during the preceding month.

Open Letter

Dear Friends,

Our religious practice is to honor but not to worship the human body. We use the custom of viewing the deceased to offer relatives and friends a last look at the face of the departed — to confirm the reality of death for the bereaved — and to focus the need for continuing concern by relatives and friends for the welfare of the bereaved family.

Respectfully,

Police Investigate 2 Bike Accidents

Circleville Police investigated three weekend accidents in the city, two involving cars and bicycles.

Brett A. Brown, 320 Lewis Ave., was treated at Berger Hospital for minor injuries when his bike collided with a car driven by Barbara A. Ramey, 34, 209 Corwin St.

The accident occurred Sunday at 1:05 p.m. in the parking lot at Joe's Frosty Treat, N. Court St., when both vehicles were pulling into the lot.

Holly Garner, 13, 508 E. Ohio St., was not injured when her bicycle collided with a car driven by Deborah K. Savage, 20, Route 2, 2:55 p.m. Friday on E. Main St.

According to the report, both vehicles were traveling east on Main St. when the bike rider attempted to change directions.

Police charged Bobby W. Young, 22, 237 Logan St., with driving while intoxicated following a wild ride down N. Court St. Monday at 1:32 a.m.

Young and a passenger in his car, 19-year-old Terry Pearce of Circleville, were treated for minor injuries.

Pearce was hurt when he jumped from the vehicle prior to the first collision.

Police said Young drove off the right side of N. Court St., hitting a tree. The car continued through a yard, hit a park sign, went through two yards, crossed an alley, crashed into a telephone pole, and spun around three times before coming to rest in another yard.

The car was out of control for 123 feet.

Damage was reported by George

Barnes, 619 N. Court St., who said his yard and tree suffered in the wreck;

Lewis Holderman, 609 N. Court St.,

whose yard and front steps were damaged; Maxine Hughes, whose yard was damaged; and the City of Circleville which lost a street sign at

N. Court and Highland Ave., a stop sign and a park sign.

Deputies Investigate Burglaries

Pickaway County Sheriff's deputies investigated four burglaries and a vandalism during the weekend.

Ralph Peters, Ashville, reported a brick was thrown through the windshield of his car while parked near the intersection of Wright and Bortz

Streets. Damage was estimated at $225.

Willis Fleetwing Service Station of Orient reported a burglary of candy, cigarettes, sunglasses and other items with a total value of $193.31. Entry was gained by breaking a garage door window.

Harry Lewis of Derby reported his residence was entered and hand guns and money were stolen. The home was entered through an unlocked door

while the family was away during the day. Total loss in the theft was estimated at $150 by Lewis.

Deercreek Auto Parts, Route 3, reported tires and rims valued at $25

were taken from the Route 23 auto salvage yard and some damage was done to another vehicle at the yard.

Gary Shaffer, Lockbourne, reported

the theft of a coat from an unlocked

car. He valued the coat at $60.

Woman Pleads Guilty To Hiding Husband

Mrs. Doris Showalter, Route 1, New

Holland, appeared in Pickaway

County Common Pleas Court this morning on a charge of obstructing justice. Mrs. Showalter pleaded guilty to the charge and the court ordered a pre-sentence report to be prepared by the Adult Parole Authority.

The charge arose after Mrs.

Showalter told authorities her husband was not at her residence and an investigation of the premises with a search warrant revealed him hidden there. She was charged with hindering the apprehension of her husband who was a fugitive of the London Prison

Farm.

Hold Meeting On Housing Discrimination

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Government officials met Saturday with Ohio

attorneys to outline the legal recourse in cases of housing discrimination.

The one-day seminar, sponsored by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development and legal and scholastic organizations, was designed to inform attorneys about civil litigation in housing discrimination cases.

Kenneth Holbert, director of HUD's office of civil rights compliance and enforcement, told the attorneys that any person who feels he is a target of discrimination in housing can turn to the department for help.

"The normal concepts of who is the aggrieved person are much broader under the fair housing law," Holbert said.

Frank Schwelb, chief of the civil rights division housing section of the

U.S. Department of Justice, called housing discrimination a "relic of slavery."

He told the legal seminar that housing discrimination had a "national philosophy," fortified during the early

1930s by such programs as the FHA, by which the government promoted segregation.

Jobless Rolls Rise Across State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Unemployment compensation rose in the first three months of 1974 in Ohio's eight largest metropolitan areas, compared to a similar period a year before, the Center for Business and Economic Research at Ohio State University reports.

Out-of-work rolls shot upward in Dayton, Columbus and Toledo while inching forward in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Youngstown, Canton and Akron, the center said.

In Dayton, insured unemployment increased by 61 per cent in the quarter over 1973's first three months. Columbus recorded a rise of 53 per cent; Toledo, 49 per cent; Youngstown, 36 per cent; Akron 26 per cent; Canton, 24 per cent; Cincinnati, 23 per cent, and Cleveland, 19 per cent.

Total unemployment for Ohio in the first quarter of 1974 compared to 1973 was up 18 per cent. Nationwide unemployment rose 6 per cent.

The oil shortage has a deep impact on Ohio's economy and related job availabilities, the center said.

"Ohio, it is clear, has been somewhat more seriously affected by the oil and gasoline shortages. The effects in Ohio have been primarily at the level of basic production where the effects of the energy shortages on output and employment in manufacturing automobiles and parts were most direct."

Ohio steel output, more closely related to automobile steel demand than the country's steel industry in total, declined by 5 per cent from first quarter 1973. United States steel production rose one per cent.

Despite the shortages and travel restrictions, motor vehicle dealers still were ahead on sales over a year by 6 per cent. However, sales dropped by 19 per cent from March 1973 compared with March 1974.

Ohio manufacturing employment, payrolls and hours worked were down from the first three months of 1973 by less than 3 per cent. Across the nation, averages rose 1 to 6 per cent on three categories.

Retail sales were up 5 per cent from January-March 1973 in both Ohio and the U.S.

Construction activity was slightly better than the year before's first quarter total in Ohio. But new construction contracts were 2 per cent below the 1973 first quarter.

The center's bulletin for Business Research gives this outlook for the state:

"The decline in output and the rise in unemployment has not led to significant reduction in overall employment.

"If runaway inflation can be avoided by monetary and fiscal policies, and if the effective support to new residential construction through more federal loan funds at lower-than-current interest rates can take early effect, there is hope that a full-scale recession can be avoided and that the latter part of the year will see a resumption of the expansion of the real economy at a modest rate."

Solon's Envelopes

Yippie Invites

WASHINGTON (AP) — A member of the House Judiciary Committee, Rep. William Hungate, is still waiting for the Postal Service and FBI to clear up a dirty trick for him.

It has nothing to do with Watergate. It has to do with a batch of franked envelopes stolen from Hungate's office and used to mail out invitations to a Yippie convention in Columbus.

"Somebody would ruin you with something like that," the Missouri Democrat said. "It's dangerous."

The frank is a congressman's signature where a stamp would normally be, and the letter is handled free. Also, it suggests that the congressman's responsible for what's inside.

Emphatically not, he says, in this case.

ORDINANCE NO. 56-74
AN ORDINANCE VACATING A PORTION OF LIBERTY ALLEY IN THE CROOK, MCCREA AND KINNEAR ADDITION TO THE CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE AND RESERVING ANY AND ALL EASEMENTS AND UTILITY RIGHTS THERE UNDER, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS, the Council of the City of Circleville, State of Ohio, has received a petition to vacate a portion of Liberty Alley in said City, which petition is on file with the Clerk of the Council of the City of Circleville, Ohio; and

WHEREAS, the Council of the City of Circleville, after due investigation and consideration, has determined that the nature and extent of the public use and public interest to be subserved is such to warrant the vacation of the portion of Liberty Alley described in the following ordinance; therefore,

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE, STATE OF OHIO:

SECTION 1. That all that portion be vacated of the following described real estate, situated in the County of Pickaway, State of Ohio, and in the City of Circleville: Being a portion of Liberty Alley in the Crook, McCre and Kinnear Addition to said City as recorded in Pickaway County Plat Record Vol. 2, at page 98, and as is described as follows:

Beginning at an iron pin in the North line of Union Street at the southeast corner of Lot No. 22, (now Lot No. 570 according to the revised numbering of the lots in the City of Circleville as set out in Plat Book 1, pages 9 through 11); thence with the East line of Lot No. 570, N. 19 deg. E. 150.00 feet to the south boundary alley; thence with the south boundary alley, S. 71 deg. 30' E. 22.0 feet to the northwest corner of Lot No. 571, passing an iron pin in the centerline of the alley at 11.00 feet; thence with the West line of Lot 571, S. 19 deg. W. 190.00 feet to an iron pin in the southwest corner of Lot No. 571; thence with the North line of Union Street, N. 71 deg. 30' W. 22.00 feet to the place of beginning, passing an iron pin on the centerline of the alley at 11.00 feet. Containing 3300 square feet.

Description based on a survey done by Dumond-Sifford and Associates under date of May 16, 1974, copy attached hereto and made a part of this ordinance.

SECTION 2. That the Council of the City of Circleville does hereby declare said portion of Liberty Alley vacated and closed inasmuch as the same is no longer required for public use and the public interest will be subserved by such vacation and that further, the alley has been physically closed by trees and other objects for many years.

SECTION 3. The City of Circleville hereby reserves any and all utility lines, easements, or for existing water mains or other facilities now located, or which in the future may be located, in said part of alley as herein vacated, and for the maintenance, renewal and reconstruction of such facilities.

SECTION 4. That this ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure, necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety of the City of Circleville and its inhabitants, and specifically for the purpose of vacating a portion of Liberty Alley in said City; wherefore this ordinance shall take effect and be in force immediately from and after its passage and approval by the Mayor.

Harsha Reports

BY WILLIAM H. HARSHA
Representative To Congress
Sixth District Of Ohio

Why does a significant shift in U.S. policy always involve a significant shift in how much money we will or will not give to a foreign country?

Right now, our foreign policy is based almost entirely on "checkbook diplomacy" and "bankbook detente", and I certainly don't approve of it. First we "loan" everything but the shirts off our backs to the Russians for a new fertilizer plant so they will become good friends with us. Now, we are told that the Administration is seeking $5 billion in foreign aid for the Mideast and Indochina — not the least of which is a $100 million bonanza for Syria, so that we can wean the left-leaning Arab countries away from Russian influence. We are eventually going to get ourselves into trouble with international relations doing this, and already, we are compounding our serious domestic economic miseries by such spendthrift policies.

On the aid to Syria, the question has been raised, and quite rightly so, as to why we should give this money to a country we have never attacked, never been particularly friendly to and whose aid we have never particularly sought. I would also have to add that I can't see where we would get very much in return for our money except for a bigger deficit spending bill at home and more problems with inflation. It could be put to better use here for any number of pressing needs.

There are a few billions dollars in sewage treatment funds, for example, which have been impounded by the Administration because they were "inflationary", that I believe are much more vital to the health and preservation of our own country which I would rather see expended instead.

There are numerous small towns in Ohio and throughout the country with inadequate systems who need the proper sewage facilities and rural highways as well, but they can't get the federal aid because they are too far down on the funding list. They could use the money — their money, as a matter of fact — much more profitably and reliably than some questionable foreign "ally".

Yet, the plan is to give the $100 million to Syria to help it rebuild towns on the Golan Heights which were devastated during the Arab-Israeli conflict. We are, therefore, going to rebuild the cities there while ours continue to degenerate. I, too, yearn for a lasting peace in the Mideast, and it would behoove us all to silence the guns and end the senseless terrorism that has killed innocent people throughout the world not even remotely involved in the conflict. But, it is hard to see where American dollars will end the centuries old hostilities. Offering foreign aid as a part of the bargain to stop the shooting is international bribery which is bound to backfire and for which the American taxpayers are left footing the bill.

There is a rather well founded suspicion, too, that this $100 million for Syria is just for "starters", as is the case with every other country we have ever given foreign aid. The more we seem to give, the more they seem to want. My most disturbing question is: "What is going to happen to the world situation and our position in it when our money starts to run out?" Where will our allies be then? How long will the settlements last which have been propped up by our dollars? It is not a pleasant thought to ponder, but it is one which I worry very much about.

As much as the Administration and Secretary Kissinger deserve credit for their great achievements in the last few years in foreign relations, I cannot support the strategy of "checkbook diplomacy". It is straining our relations and our pocketbooks at home. We do not reap any return on our investments either in true friendship or in economic dividends. We just end up paying higher prices for products from other countries who advance economically under the shade of Uncle Sam's money tree.

This cannot be tolerated. If we must cut our spending at home to fight inflation, then we must do the same with the billions we dole out yearly abroad.

Coca-Cola Gives To College Fund

Among the contributors to the Ohio Foundation of Independent Colleges during the month of May was the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Circleville. May was the final month of the fiscal year for the foundation.

Checks totaling $2,034,461 have been sent to the 36 colleges which are members of the foundation. This is the largest amount ever distributed by the Ohio Foundation which for the first time in history topped the two million dollar mark.

The source of these funds which the foundation distributed is the voluntary gifts from the profits of business and industrial firms. There contributions amounted to $1,768,651 this year.

These are a few members of the Class of '73 who found what they were looking for in today's Army

Contrary to popular belief, good jobs aren't that hard to find these days. Not that is, if you know where to look. And a better place to look than today's Army you won't find. Our confidence is based on these simple facts.

One. We have more jobs to offer the Class of '74 than anyone. Military or civilian. (About 70,000 openings.)

Two. The jobs are the kind you don't usually step into right out of high school. Electronics, construction, computers, technical repair, communications and law enforcement are a few of the over 300 good, steady jobs we offer.

Three. Although the jobs we offer are considered "skilled labor," we don't require that you already possess the skill. We'll teach you everything you need to know in our training courses. (Experience will come on the job.)

Four. You choose the exact job training you want before you enlist. And, if you qualify, you'll get it. Guaranteed in writing.

That's our job offer to the Class of '74. We think it'll pay you to look into it. After all, look what it did for the Class of '73.

A Page Of Opinion

How It Started

Nearly anyone can instantly trace the inception of flight to the Wright brothers, but few would be able to name the man who started the space age.

Traveling the universe had been a dream of scientists long before Dr. Robert H. Goddard ignited a rocket for a 21½-second flight on March 16, 1926, but it was that feeble success which was largely responsible for the space successes of today.

Perhaps it was fortunate that Goddard limited witnesses on that cold winter day on a bleak Massachusetts farm to his wife and two assistants. Forty-eight years ago, if many persons and witnesses the scene on that farm, Dr. Goddard might never have been free to finish the experiments which were largely responsible for development of the anti-tank "bazooka" of World War II, the V-1 German rockets of the same war, and the primary principles employed in today's rockets.

Dressed in a knit cap, an overcoat and a muffler, the assistant professor of physics at Clark University in Worcester, Mass., was not exactly the picture of a daring adventurer. And the weird, 10-foot high tubular high steel frame surrounding a two-foot motor would not have impressed anyone.

Nor was the scientist himself overly optimistic about its success. Mrs. Goddard recorded for posterity the inventor's remarks as an assistant fired an alcohol stove beneath the rocket motor as, "I think I'll get the hell out of here!"

By crude calculation, that first modern rocket traveled an arc 41 feet high and 184 feet long before it crashed. And the cranked camera ran by Mrs. Goddard ran down just before takeoff. It was an auspicious day, not by any spectacular achievement at the time but because the principles tested 48 years ago are contributing to the successes of today.

There is one other fact for which Robert Goddard should be known. Forty years of rocket research, resulting in many patents and working models, cost $250,000.

Kissinger's Crisis

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

SALZBURG, June 11. — Henry Kissinger's emotional defense of his allied role in consenting to or condoning notorious Washington wiretaps eclipsed the drama and to some degree the significance of President Nixon's Mid-East trip today before it could get started.

The normally confident and sometimes cocky Secretary of State called his press conference with little or no warning on the same morning that White House Press Secretary Ron Ziegler was telling the media that he would answer no questions relating to Watergate, impeachment, subenas, tapes and other domestic discords. He would answer only questions that had to do with the current trip to the Arab states and Israel, and about preliminary plans for the later summit meeting in Moscow.

But Kissinger was 100 per cent domestic, 110 per cent angry, and 120 per cent distressed over being brought into the general area of the Washington scandal. His traditional cool melted under threatening tears.

"If it is not cleared up," he said in reference to allegations that he either initiated or countenanced the placing of taps on the phones and surveillance of associates and others suspected of leaking details on his early foreign policy activities. "I will resign."

It was a bombshell whose tremors may possibly have come as a surprise and shock to President Nixon, who has leaned so heavily on Kissinger's prestige and expertise during his own defenses in the matter of Watergate and other problems involving possible impeachment.

The extent of Kissinger's demands to lame-duck Sen. J. William Fulbright and more viable and durable judicial areas may be found elsewhere. The following pertains to the thoughts of Pierre Salinger, President Kennedy's Press Secretary, who is now living in Paris and is on this trip as a correspondent for L'Express.

"I've seen a lot of press conferences in my time but this one was the damndest," he said. "Here we had a Secretary of State who has done so much to bring about what we've got in the way of detente, and I thought for a long time during his statement and the questions that followed that he was going to break down and cry."

"Maybe one reason is that this was such a switch for him. Except for that session with the press last week in Washington, when he showed up to report on his success in weeks of negotiations in the Middle East, and found himself questioned on why he bugged this or that friend a long time ago, Kissinger has never been through one of these grinders. He had good reason to feel secure when everything else in Washington was crumbling. He was the stalwart figure of integrity.

"He was the one member of the Administration who would never be messed up by the follies of the President and the Cabinet and White House Staff.

"What he did, if he did, and what he said in his press conference, and what he didn't say about the SALT talks of 1969 and other non-Watergate matters would be issues of no significance in themselves. But now he clearly feels that he is being accused of being, somehow, a part of Watergate — and that's what he has feared might happen to him for a long time."

Salinger was critical of many of Kissinger's remonstrances and replies to questions today, and more critical of President Nixon's record in answering charges.

"I remember the greatest catastrophe of President Kennedy's Administration very well," said the trimmed-down, cigar-chomping former White House Press Secretary. "It was the Bay of Pigs invasion, of course. A day after that terrible bust, one of the President's Cabinet officers — I still won't mention his name — called in the press and tried to give the President an 'out.' He said that JFK had been badly advised by the Joint Chiefs of Staff. When the President heard about it, he called me in and told me to call up that Cabinet officer and bawl the hell out of him, then to call in the White House press and tell them that he, Kennedy, took sole blame for the blunder."

Marriage At Vets Center Unites World War I Pair

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Maude Speake, 77-year-old former World War I Navy nurse, got a snappy salute from her new husband Friday as she became a June bride in the September of her years.

For her husband, Nicholas Walsh, World War I Army veteran, it was a first marriage at the age of 82.

Why did he wait so long to take the plunge?

"I never met a girl before I wanted to spend the rest of my life with," he said. Mrs. Speake and Walsh were joined in matrimony in a simple service in the second floor chapel of the nursing home care unit at the Veterans Administration Center where they met. A group of nurses and patients looked on.

The Rev. George Hamilton, VA chaplain, officiated.

Walsh was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., and his bride in Elkhart, Ind. He said they met at the VA center in Dayton when he was an elevator operator.

"Maude was in a wheelchair and I always helped her in and out of the elevator," Walsh said.

"We got to know each other real well." "Well, not too long ago I just told her that we have known each other for three years and it was about time we ended this thing and got married."

As she waited to be wheeled into the chapel, Mrs. Walsh said:

"We pulled one over on the head nurse on June 7. We told her we were going downtown shopping. We went shopping all right. We got blood tests and our marriage license."

The elderly couple was nervous. Their voices quavered as they exchanged vows. Walsh nearly dropped the wedding ring.

At the end of the ceremony the minister pronounced them man and wife and told Walsh to salute his bride. Walsh brought his hand up quickly in a salute, then broke into laughter and bent over and kissed the new Mrs. Walsh.

Nurses and patients laughed and applauded.

Walsh said he and his bride would live at the VA center for a time and then: "We hope to get a small house in the suburbs and settle down and enjoy life together."

Cambodians Rescue Unit

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Government forces have established a beachhead near besieged Longvek 25 miles north of Phnom Penh in an attempt to evacuate 25,000 civilians trapped in the military camp.

The Cambodian military command said a government naval unit established a base across the Tonle Sap River from the besieged city and that troops from Longvek have made a "linkup."

The command did not indicate the size of the naval unit or the precise nature of the linkup.

Longvek came under siege three months ago when a government task force retreated to the city after being driven out of another beachhead to the south during an attempt to retake the provincial capital of Oudong.

The rebel troops then encircled Longvek, trapping 4,000 soldiers in addition to the 25,000 civilians. The government has resupplied those at Longvek by airdrops, but both food and water has been scarce.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Is it true that there are some experiments going on with drugs to stop the process of aging?

Mr. J. D. E., Ohio

Dear Mr. E.:

I doubt that the "process of aging" can be stopped. There are, however, many scientists in institutions all over the world who are studying the possibility of delaying the process of aging.

At the National Institute of Health in Bethesda, Md., some drugs are showing considerable promise in experimental animals. One in particular, centrophoxine, was first discovered in the early 1960s when a French botanist found that it reversed the aging process in plants.

Since then, it has been tried in human beings. These and other studies are aimed at the possibility of keeping memory more active and returning it to those who have lost this faculty.

It is also interesting to note that there are many well-known factors which, when followed at an early age, can decrease the speed of aging. For example, high fat diets, tobacco, untreated high blood pressure, lack of exercise, and obesity play a prominent role in blood vessel changes associated with the aging process.

Way To The Bank

No matter how well the average wage earner does in salary, the raise seems to sift through the hands as quickly as the dough a decade ago. It was Louis B. Mayer, I believe, who was fond of jacking his salary to the top of the national heap every year, even though he practically owned Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

The last I recall of Mr. Mayer's income was something like $550,000. Anyone making $15,700 a week doesn't have to pick it up. He can hire a couple of private policemen to carry it for him. And yet, it sounds insecure compared to Richard Gerstenberg's $923,000 a year as chairman of General Motors.

Someone may write a book called "Money Is Meaningless," but I won't buy it. I enjoy the crisp crackle of currency in my wallet, especially when each bill wears two digits.

David Berliner, who is also fascinated by heavy sugar, wrote an article in New York magazine not long ago in which he explained that Henry Ford II took a cut in salary from $874,000 a year down to $865,000.

It takes guts, pal. Of course, there are items which are not figured in a gentleman's salary, like million-dollar insurance policies, stock options and expense accounts.

Bella Abzug, a Congress-person who loves hats, earns $42,500. It sounds like a lot for riding the rich, but Mary Bacon, a jockey, is said to jam $75,000 into her purse. Think of the millions promised to Warfield, Kiick and Czomka for taking their old skills to a new football league.

Money, money, money. You buy a bottle of liquor, but it doesn't occur to you that D. C. Bell, president of National Distillers, gets a piece of it — $214,914 to be exact. Study your TV Guide and it might state: "Johnny Carson returns tonight." What he is returning for is a million a year.

David Brinkley, who gives us the wry boyish slant on NBC news, gets $250,000. This is only $20,000 less than Lester Burcham gets for running all those hundreds of F.W. Woolworth stores. Even former Vice President Spiro Agnew, who condemned the press for writing what he considered fiction, is now doing it himself for scads of money.

I wonder if Ma Bell sends a phone bill to John deButts, chairman of the board of AT&T. He can afford it; his salary hopped in one year from $207,000 to $325,000. A few publishers are high, editorially speaking. Hedley Donovan of Time magazine draws $241,693, a complex figure to compute.

Is it possible for a child to have nasal allergy all year? My 7-year-old boy never seems to be free of it. We have been advised against having him tested. Is there anything else we can do about his constant sneezing and itching nose?

Mrs. G. A., N.D.

Dear Mrs. A.:

Perennial nasal allergy is a common disorder in children. It is debilitating and saps the energy of children burdened with it. The condition can be diagnosed by the appearance of the mucous membrane lining of the nose.

Many parents tell the doctor, "My child has a cold all year round." Colds do not behave in this way. Allergies do.

Almost always, the year-round allergy is caused by some substance the child breathes in. More rarely is food a factor.

Animal dander, house dust and pollen from flowers, weeds and trees are the greatest offenders.

I cannot understand who the authorities were who advised you against having your son tested since he has year-round distress. Your own doctor or a specialist in allergy may be able to pinpoint the exact cause, desensitize your son, and give him some relief.

Osborn Elliott, editor of Newsweek, is paid half what Donovan gets. Florida's little baby tennis pro, Chris Evert can count up to $142,000. Dr. Frank Field, the NBC weatherman, is an old thorn in my side. Mark him for $73,500. Our V.P., Gerald Ford, is paid $62,500, but oh, those extras!

Remember John Gambling on WOR radio? $500,000 for a month. Ann Gormley is a police lieutenant in New York and is paid $22,000. My father had that rank and earned $3,700. Eastern Airlines laid off pilots in the energy crunch, but chairman Floyd Hall is still earning over $200,000.

Once I was the highest-paid rewrite on The Daily Mirror. I got $4,160. Seymour Hersh, reporter for The New York Times, is paid $32,000. Henry Kissinger, the obvious choice for the Nobel Peace Prize next year, doesn't get twice what Hersh gets, $60,000.

Even Morris the Cat, who does those finicky TV commercials, is paid $10,000 a year. Joe Namath, who parlayed bum knee into a fortune, models pantyhose and, adding one thing to another, drags himself to the bank with $250,000 a year.

Tom Seaver has been losing a few for the Mets, but he's on the pad for $172,000. Gloria Steinem, who emasculates male chauvinist pigs, earns a pittance as editor of Ms. Magazine, $21,100.

John Zuccotti, chairman of New York City's planning commission, planned himself from $41,000 last year to $43,255 this year. I cannot imagine what a Rockefeller would do with an additional buck, but David chairman of Chase Manhattan, risks a rupture lugging $230,000 home. Mayor Beame of New York needs a press agent. He pays Lou Vench a lousy $10,000.

That fat, 16-year-old guru who married his secretary — nobody knows how much loot he takes in for meditating, perhaps on girls. I've meditated on women two decades and, as my old man said so wisely, "It'll getcha into nothing but trouble."

Oh yes. Clay Felker, who published big salaries in his New York magazine, forgot to include his own. He's sly, that one...

A Page Of Opinion

How It Started

Nearly anyone can instantly trace the inception of flight to the Wright brothers, but few would be able to name the man who started the space age.

Traveling the universe had been a dream of scientists long before Dr. Robert H. Goddard ignited a rocket for a 2½-second flight on March 16, 1926, but it was that feeble success which was largely responsible for the space successes of today.

Perhaps it was fortunate that Goddard limited witnesses on that cold winter day on a bleak Massachusetts farm to his wife and two assistants. Forty-eight years ago, if many persons and witnesses the scene on that farm, Dr. Goddard might never have been free to finish the experiments which were largely responsible for development of the anti-tank "bazooka" of World War II, the V-1 German rockets of the same war, and the primary principles employed in today's rockets.

Dressed in a knit cap, an overcoat and a muffler, the assistant professor of physics at Clark University in Worcester, Mass., was not exactly the picture of a daring adventurer. And the weird, 10-foot high tubular high steel frame surrounding a two-foot motor would not have impressed anyone.

Nor was the scientist himself overly optimistic about its success. Mrs. Goddard recorded for posterity the inventor's remarks as an assistant fired an alcohol stove beneath the rocket motor as, "I think I'll get the hell out of here!"

By crude calculation, that first modern rocket traveled an arc 41 feet high and 184 feet long before it crashed. And the cranked camera ran by Mrs. Goddard ran down just before takeoff. It was an auspicious day, not by any spectacular achievement at the time but because the principles tested 48 years ago are contributing to the successes of today.

There is one other fact for which Robert Goddard should be known. Forty years of rocket research, resulting in many patents and working models, cost $250,000.

Kissinger's Crisis

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

SALZBURG, June 11. — Henry Kissinger's emotional defense of his alleged role in consenting to or condoning notorious Washington wiretaps eclipsed the drama and to some degree the significance of President Nixon's Mid-East trip today before it could get started.

The normally confident and sometimes cocky Secretary of State called his press conference with little or no warning on the same morning that White House Press Secretary Ron Ziegler was telling the media that he would answer no questions relating to Watergate, impeachment, subornation, tapes and other domestic discords. He would answer only questions that had to do with the current trip to the Arab states and Israel, and about preliminary plans for the later summit meeting in Moscow.

But Kissinger was 100 per cent domestic, 110 per cent angry, and 120 per cent distressed over being brought into the general area of the Washington scandal. His traditional cool melted under threatening tears.

"If it is not cleared up," he said in reference to allegations that he either initiated or countenanced the placing of taps on the phones and surveillance of associates and others suspected of leaking details on his early foreign policy activities, "I will resign."

It was a bombshell whose tremors may possibly have come as a surprise and shock to President Nixon, who has leaned so heavily on Kissinger's prestige and expertise during his own defenses in the matter of Watergate and other problems involving possible impeachment.

The extent of Kissinger's demands to lame-duck Sen. J. William Fulbright and more viable and durable judicial areas may be found elsewhere. The following pertains to the thoughts of Pierre Salinger, President Kennedy's Press Secretary, who is now living in Paris and is on this trip as a correspondent for L'Express.

"I've seen a lot of press conferences in my time but this one was the damndest," he said. "Here we had a Secretary of State who has done so much to bring about what we've got in the way of detente, and I thought for a long time during his statement and the questions that followed that he was going to break down and cry."

"Maybe one reason is that this was such a switch for him. Except for that session with the press last week in Washington, when he showed up to report on his success in weeks of negotiations in the Middle East, and found himself questioned on why he bugged this or that friend a long time ago, Kissinger has never been through one of these grinders. He had good reason to feel secure when everything else in Washington was crumbling. He was the stalwart figure of integrity."

Salinger was critical of many of

Kissinger's remonstrances and replies to questions today, and more critical of President Nixon's record in answering charges.

Even former Vice President Spiro Agnew, who condemned the press for writing what he considered fiction, is now doing it himself for scads of money.

I wonder if Ma Bell sends a phone bill to John deButts, chairman of the board of AT&T. He can afford it; his salary hopped in one year from $207,000 to $325,000. A few publishers are high, editorially speaking. Hedley Donovan of Time magazine draws $241,693, a complex figure to compute.

Is it possible for a child to have nasal allergy all year? My 7-year-old boy never seems to be free of it. We have been advised against having him tested. Is there anything else we can do about his constant sneezing and itching nose?

Mrs. G. A., N.D.

Dear Mrs. A.:

Perennial nasal allergy is a common disorder in children. It is debilitating and saps the energy of children burdened with it. The condition can be diagnosed by the appearance of the mucous membrane lining of the nose.

Many parents tell the doctor, "My child has a cold all year round." Colds do not behave in this way. Allergies do. Almost always, the year-round allergy is caused by some substance the child breathes in. More rarely is food a factor.

Animal dander, house dust and pollen from flowers, weeds and trees are the greatest offenders.

I cannot understand who the authorities were who advised you against having your son tested since he has year-round distress. Your own doctor or a specialist in allergy may be able to pinpoint the exact cause, desensitize your son, and give him some relief.

Osborn Elliott, editor of Newsweek, is paid half what Donovan gets. Florida's little baby tennis pro, Chris Evert can count up to $142,000. Dr. Frank Field, the NBC weatherman, is an old thorn in my side. Mark him for $73,500. Our V.P., Gerald Ford, is paid $62,500, but oh, those extras!

Remember John Gambling on WOR radio? $500,000 for a mouth. Ann Gormley is a police lieutenant in New York and is paid $22,000. My father had that rank and earned $3,700. Eastern Airlines laid off pilots in the energy crunch, but chairman Floyd Hall is still earning over $200,000.

Once I was the highest-paid rewrite on The Daily Mirror. I got $4,160. Seymour Hersh, reporter for The New York Times, is paid $32,000. Henry Kissinger, the obvious choice for the Nobel Peace Prize next year, doesn't get twice what Hersh gets, $60,000.

Even Morris the Cat, who does those finicky TV commercials, is paid $10,000 a year. Joe Namath, who parlayed bum knee into a fortune, models pantyhose and, adding one thing to another, drags himself to the bank with $250,000 a year.

Tom Seaver has been losing a few for the Mets, but he's on the pad for $172,000. Gloria Steinem, who emasculates male chauvinist pigs, earns a pittance as editor of Ms. Magazine, $21,100.

John Zuccotti, chairman of New York City's planning commission, planned himself from $41,000 last year to $43,255 this year. I cannot imagine what a Rockefeller would do with an additional buck, but David chairman of Chase Manhattan, risks a rupture lugging $230,000 home. Mayor Beame of New York needs a press agent. He pays Lou Vench a lousy $10,000.

That fat, 16-year-old guru who married his secretary — nobody knows how much loot he takes in for meditating, perhaps on girls. I've meditated on women two decades and, as my old man said so wisely, "It'll getcha into nothing but trouble."

Oh yes. Clay Felker, who published big salaries in his New York magazine, forgot to include his own. He's sly, that one...

The effects of Watergate dominated the remarks of two Republicans who came to Ohio Friday for party fundraisers.

Former New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, in Cleveland for a $100-a-plate dinner, discounted the scandal as a major cause of the party's recent loss of key congressional seats and said the people don't want a one-party Congress.

And Gov. Arch Moore of West Virginia, speaking at a rally and barbeque in Athens, called on Republicans to meet the challenge of a veto-proof Congress, saying Americans would be the losers if that happened.

Rockefeller told newsmen he expects a Republican to be elected President in 1976 and said he based the prediction on the "availability of talent" and the party's position in the country.

Rockefeller said Watergate won't play an important role in his decision on whether to run for the presidency.

NOTICE OF SALE OF BONDS

Sealed bids for the purchase of $1,870,000 bonds of the Board of Education of the Westfall Local School District (herein referred to as the issuer) in the Counties of Pickaway and Madison, Ohio, will be received by the undersigned officer in his office in the High School Building located on State Route 56 approximately twelve miles west of Circleville, until 1:00 o'clock, p.m., Eastern Daylight Saving Time, on the 26th day of June, 1974, at which time the bids will be opened and read publicly. Bids for the bonds, which were authorized by legislation enacted on May 28, 1974, shall be sealed and endorsed "Bid for School Improvement Bonds", and each bid shall be made only for all or none of such bonds. Bids to be delivered by mail should be sent to the undersigned at R.F.D. 1, Williamsport, Ohio 43154.

It is contemplated that the bond issuing authority will meet at 7:30 o'clock, p.m., on the 26th day of June, 1974, to consider the bids and make an award.

The bonds will be dated the first day of July, 1974, will be in the denomination of $5,000 each, and will draw interest payable semiannually on the first days of June and December of each year, beginning June 1, 1975, at the rate of six and one-quarter per centum (6 1/4 per cent) per annum. Anyone desiring to do so may present a bid for said bonds based upon their bearing a different single rate of interest, but not in excess of eight per centum (8 per cent) per annum, provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid, such fraction shall be one-eighth of one percent or a multiple thereof. Split rate bids and bids with supplemental coupons will not be considered.

The bonds mature as follows: $80,000 on December 1 in each of the years from 1975 to 1978, both inclusive; and $75,000 on December 1 in each of the years from 1979 to 1986, both inclusive.

The bonds are issued for the purpose of constructing and equipping a new middle school building and improving the site thereof.

The bonds are payable, without deduction for the services of the issuer's paying agent, at the legal depository of the issuer, presently the Williamsport Branch Office of the First National Bank of Circleville, Circleville, Ohio, and, unless paid from other sources, are payable from unlimited taxes. The proceeds for this issue have been taken under the supervision of the State Auditor, Sanders & Dempsey, whose approving opinion will be furnished at the cost of the successful bidder and will be printed on the bonds. The issuer will pay the cost of printing the bonds. A complete transcript of proceedings will be furnished by the issuer, together with a certificate showing no litigation pending or threatened at the time of the delivery to enjoin delivery or to contest the validity of the bonds or the power to issue them or the levy or collection of taxes for their payment.

CUSP numbers will be printed on the bonds if available and requested by the successful bidder. Any delay, error or omission with respect thereto shall not constitute cause for the successful bidder to refuse to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds. The Service Bureau charge for the assignment of the numbers shall be the responsibility of the successful bidder.

The bids will promptly be considered, and the bonds will be sold to the highest bidder offering the lowest interest rate at not less than par and accrued interest. The lowest interest rate will be determined by calculating the total interest to be paid at maturity at the rate bid and deducting therefrom any premium bid. If each of two or more bids is the highest bid offering the lowest interest rate, the bonds will be awarded on such one of the highest bids as is chosen by lot. All bids must be accompanied by cash, bank cashier's or official's check or certified check payable to the issuer, or any combination thereof, aggregating one percent of the par amount of the bonds upon the condition that, if the bid is accepted, the bidder will receive and pay for the bonds in accordance with the terms and provisions of this notice. No bank bidding for the bonds shall file its own cashier's or official's check, nor a check certified by it. Such security shall be held by the issuer unused pending delivery of the bonds and forfeited as full of the successful bidder in the event of default by the successful bidder.

In the event that, prior to their delivery, the interest on the bonds should be paid by Congress or otherwise become payable under Federal income taxes, or any act of Congress should provide that the interest income on the bonds shall be taxable at a future date for Federal income tax purposes, whether directly or indirectly, the successful bidder may refuse to accept delivery and in such event his bid security shall be returned without interest.

The bonds shall be delivered for payment within the State of Ohio to the successful bidder or to a bank designated by the successful bidder without charge. If delivered at a place outside of the State of Ohio, the successful bidder shall pay the expense of delivery at that place. The expense of delivery within the State of Ohio shall not be considered in determining the highest bidder.

Before making tender of the bonds at the place of delivery, the issuer shall give written notice to the successful bidder not later than the fifth business day before the proposed tender of the fact that the bonds, transcript, no-litigation certificate and approving opinion will be available for delivery and giving the date and hour for the tender at the place of delivery, provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the making of a mutually agreeable arrangement for the delivery of the bonds either at the place fixed for delivery or elsewhere.

If such notice has not been given by the issuer or waived by the successful bidder and the bonds, transcript, no-litigation certificate and approving opinion are not available for delivery to the successful bidder at such place of delivery on or before 12:00 o'clock noon of the 30th calendar day after the day fixed for the receipt of bids, and the successful bidder shall not be in default of any of his obligations, he shall have the right thereafter, and so long as no such tender by the issuer shall yet have been made, to cancel the contract of purchase. Any such right shall be exercised by delivering written notice of such cancellation to the undersigned or to the office of the undersigned during business hours. Such bidder shall thereupon be entitled to the return of the deposit which accompanied his bid and it shall be returned to him immediately.

The right is reserved to reject bids.

Fake Film Maker Held At Hillsboro

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP) — An extradition hearing was scheduled today for a California man accused of attempting to hire a cast for a non-existent movie.

The Commonwealth of Virginia is attempting to extradite Melvin Greenberg of Studio City, Calif., to face charges of grand larceny and defrauding an innkeeper.

The hearing for the 52-year-old Greenberg was scheduled in Highland County Common Pleas Court.

Greenberg had interviewed residents of this community of 5,000 for parts in a film he said would be shot next week in the nearby Rocky Fork State Park.

Robert Rooney, park manager at Rocky Fork, said Greenberg was arrested after his identity was checked with the FBI crime computer in Washington, D.C.

Greenberg was wanted on charges of grand larceny in Virginia, Rooney said.

Proxmire Rips Rush Statement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., termed the refusal of presidential adviser Kenneth Rush to testify before a congressional committee "unacceptable and ridiculous" Friday and said he will seek to have the money for Rush's salary withheld.

Rush, newly named as President Nixon's chief economic adviser, invoked executive privilege in refusing to appear before the panel probing the state of the economy.

He said his responsibility to give Nixon "candid and uninhibited advice" precludes his appearing before the joint committee.

the decision, he said, indicating he expected to decide in the fall whether to be a candidate.

Moore called the present Democratic majority in Congress financially irresponsible and said election of a vetoproof Congress "would be the greatest invasion of the personal pocketbooks of Americans."

While Congress forces the President to spend money, Moore said, members blame him for not keeping spending down.

"There's a clever effort to subvert the attention of the American people away from the accomplishments in Washington and to put those accomplishments on the back burner," he said.

Rockefeller said he could not condone it if President Nixon were to refuse to abide by a Supreme Court order to turn over more Watergate tapes to the House Judiciary Committee, which is considering whether to recommend impeachment of the President.

"One of the great strengths of our system is that there is provision for dealing with this kind of problem.

"If he doesn't comply with a court order, it would be a basis for action by the Judiciary Committee," Rockefeller said.

Armstrong Heads Rites

HARRRODSBURG, Ky. (AP) — Harrodsburg celebrated its 200th birthday Sunday with the first man on the moon paying tribute to America's first pioneers of the West.

Astronaut Neil A. Armstrong, the first man to set foot on the moon almost five years ago, accepted the key to the city from Harrodsburg Mayor J. Elmer Sims, who referred to Armstrong as "the first mayor of the moon."

Armstrong, speaking mostly jovially, compared the forces that drove the early settlers west in this country with those that took men to the moon.

"They were dissatisfied with taxation without representation," he said.

"Now have taxation and representation and we cry a little bit about both of them."

Armstrong, now a professor of engineering at the University of Cincinnati, spoke at the ceremony to unveil a statue of the founder of Harrodsburg, the first white settlement west of the Alleghenies.

Fireworks Ruling Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — A decision on the legality of traditional Fourth of July fireworks will be made by Monday, government officials said Friday.

Chinese and American fireworks makers have petitioned the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission to delay until after July 4 its ban on fireworks.

The petition was filed by the Oklahoma Pyrotechnics Association, Macao Fireworks Manufacturers Association and Li and Fung Ltd., a Hong Kong trading company.

If the new regulations are put into effect, the petitions said, the firms may be forced to repurchase $50 million worth of banned fireworks.

The commission said its lawyers would work through the weekend on the petition and a decision would be made "by the close of business Monday."

Greenberg had reserved 40 motel rooms at Lexington, Va., for three weeks beginning June 27, according to Rockbridge County Commonwealth Atty. Eric Sisler. Greenberg informed the motel operators the rooms were for camera crews and actors, Sisler said.

Hillsboro Deputy Carl Ayres said Greenberg approached hundreds of residents, offering contracts to those who paid $15 for union initiation fees.

Ayres said he had no knowledge of anyone giving Greenberg any money, although investigation is continuing.

Officials decided to check on Greenberg's authenticity when the California man claimed the film would include Burt Lancaster, Audrey Hepburn, Phil Silvers and Kirk Douglas.

The Screen Actors Guild informed Hillsboro officials that Greenberg was not affiliated with the union and that they had never heard of the studio he claimed to represent, Ayres said.

Railroad Shows Loss

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Erie Lackawanna Railway Co. lost $5.2 million in the first four months of 1974 compared to a loss of $3.3 million in the same period the year before, trustees reported Friday.

Operating revenues for the first four months were $101.7 million, up from $94.4 million a year earlier, the company said.

Operating expenses for the period were $82.5 million versus $76.6 million for 1973.

April operating revenue was $27.5 million compared to $24 million for the corresponding month last year, the trustees said. Operating expenses in April were $21.1 million compared to $19.5 million a year ago.

The fully accrued April net loss was $524,000 compared with a net loss of $697,000 for April 1973, they said.

The financial statement was filed with the U.S. District Court in Cleveland. The railroad is in reorganization under federal bankruptcy statutes.

Disston's 3" super-hard steel blades slice clean through the tough stuff, stay sharp, and hold up longer. Non-stick coating prevents tug and tear. Longer-life energy cells make your Disston run extra long distances on a single charge. Battery charger, blade guard and safety lock included.

CORDLESS ELECTRIC SHRUB TRIMMER (CEST-2)

Makes you a Michelangelo with bushes and shrubs. So powerful you'll be surprised it's so lightweight—less than 3 pounds. Handles like a dream to let you trim and sculpt plain or fancy—with no cord to hold you back. The 12 1/2" double-edged blade is coated with a special non-stick material to prevent tug and tear. Battery charger, blade guard and safety lock included.

Kelly McLain To Visit Greece

KELLY MCLAIN

Youth for Understanding has accepted Kelly McLain as an exchange student for the summer of 1974. She is the daughter of Mrs. Peggy McLain, Carson City, Mich., and the granddaughter of Mrs. Orville (Mabel) Archer, N. Pickaway St., Circleville. For two months Miss McLain will be living with a family in Greece.

Youth for Understanding offers the family living experience to young people between the ages of 12-18 for two months or a full year. The program cooperates with and receives an annual grant from the U.S. State Department.

Shower Honors Mrs. John Smith

Mrs. John Smith was complimented with a shower recently given by Miss Kathleen LaRue at her home near Stoutsville. Guests were former school classmates of Miss Thompson.

A large clock above the gift table held streamers extending to each gift which had been selected to be used at a different designated time of day. Game prizes were presented to the honored guest by the winners.

A bouquet of spring flowers flanked by lighted green candles provided the centerpiece for the lace-covered refreshment table.

Guests were: Mrs. Jeffrey A. Smith, Mrs. Carl Adams, Mrs. Mark Pontius, Mrs. James Rhymer and Miss Sondra Warner. A gift was sent by Miss Marie Hyme, who was unable to attend.

Mother-Son Picnic Held Sunday

DeMolay Mothers Club held a Mother-Son picnic Sunday at Old Man's Cave. Swimming at the lodge pool and hiking occupied the afternoon.

Attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hart and Duane, Mrs. Hazel Yeatts and Jerry, Mrs. Juanita Fields and Mike, Mrs. Charles Schieber and Larry.

Cathy Bower, Dan Kiebler, Sylvia Garner, Robin Ervin, Mary Merriman and Terry, Mike Stevens, Lance Neuding and Elvin Lewis, adviser.

News Gag Under Fire

HONOLULU (AP) — A federal judge has issued a temporary restraining order directing Honolulu police to restore partially the flow of information on arrests to newsmen.

U.S. District Court Judge Martin Pence ruled Friday that police can withhold the names, addresses and occupations of persons arrested, but he said they must release all other information which had been given news media representatives before the effective date of a new state arrest records law.

The law signed last week by acting Gov. George Ariyoshi makes it a misdemeanor for police to release any information "relating to the questioning, apprehension, detention, arrest or charging of persons" when no conviction is secured.

Attorneys for several news organizations filed suit in state circuit court Wednesday challenging the law. A hearing was scheduled Friday, but was canceled and the case was referred to a different judge.

The plaintiffs included The Associated Press, United Press International, the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, the Honolulu Advertiser, radio station KHVH and television stations KGMB, KHON, and KITV.

Pythian Sisters Make Bus Tour

A bus tour to Marietta, Ohio and Williamstown, W. Va., was made recently by 43 members and guests of Pythian Sisters of Majors Temple K of P.

The first stop was at the Java House in Logan for a coffee break. Before lunch at the Motor Hotel Lafayette in Marietta most of the women visited an antique shop near the hotel. After lunch they toured the factory and visited the gift shop of the Fenton Art Glass Co. in Williamstown and the River Museum in Marietta. Dinner was eaten in Marietta before the trip home.

Making the trip were: Helen Abney, Ruth Anderson, Mary Ater, Mabel Bircher, Carolyn Brooks, Julia Burton, Mary Clark, Naomi Conley, Annabel Crosby, June Davis, Louise Drummond, Mary Dumm, Leola Evans, Eleanor Fisher, Wanita Garner, Anna Gardner, Hazel Harvey, Olive Hettinger, Evelyn Hoover.

Mary Jane Skinner, Clarissa Talbut, Jean Thompson, Helen Timmons, Norma Toland, Opal Vance, Eunice Walters, Della Wertman, Jane Winfough and Carolyn Young.

Eleanor Wilkinson Honored With Going Away Party

Xi Eta Epsilon Exemplar Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority held a going away dinner party recently in honor of Mrs. Eleanor Wilkinson at Tink's. Mrs. Wilkinson and her family will be moving to Middletown where Mr. Wilkinson has accepted a new position.

Attending from the sorority were Dee Bowers, Rosemary Linn, Kathy Rhoads, LaDonna Kelchner, Norma Feldmann, Emma Curlett, Sharon Walters and Jeanne Moore. Also attending were Jean Carter, Drenna Bohenko, Rose Snook, Pauline Frantz and Sue Roan, other friends of Mrs. Wilkinson.

Those present gave Mrs. Wilkinson a going away gift for her friendship and years of service to the sorority.

DeMolay Mothers Discuss Events

DeMolay Mothers Club met recently in the Masonic Temple dining room for a regular monthly meeting.

Discussion topics for the evening were about plans for the Pumpkin Show and annual inspection to be held on June 24th.

Refreshments were served to 26 members and guests by Mrs. Betty Stevens and Mrs. Beulah Temple. The door prize was presented to Robert Conaway of Chillicothe, district inspecting officer.

The next regular meeting will be 7:30 p.m., July 8th, in the Masonic Temple dining room.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

New Name For Old Game

DEAR ABBY: Quite some time ago my husband asked me how I felt about wife swapping. I told him I hoped he was kidding because the thought of it made me sick. The subject was dropped.

The next thing I knew, Pete started bringing home some of those crummy underground newspapers and reading ads from couples who wanted to swap. I told him if he decided to go in for anything so lowdown he had better find himself another wife.

I then went out of town for some dental surgery. I was gone for five days. When I returned Pete told me that "just for the fun of it" he had looked up a few couples who had advertised themselves as swingers, and he thought it might be fun if we tried it. Abby, the idea is absolutely revolting.

to me. My moral upbringing wouldn't permit me to do anything so vile. We've been married for 33 years and I can't imagine what's gotten into him. Pete says times have changed, and everybody swings. I can't believe that. Please tell me, Abby. Am I out of step or is he?

BEWILDERED

DEAR BEWILDERED: He is. It's a new name for a very old game in which everybody loses. Ask your husband how he'd like to swing around to his doctor's for a checkup from the neck both ways. He could be sick.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I go around with another young married couple who have been getting on our nerves lately because of something they do which we dislike.

They are always talking about how much money they make, how much their clothes cost them, how much they spent on their vacations, and they even bragged about how much they got back on their income tax. It's sickening.

What do you do about people like that without breaking up the friendship?

HATES BRAGGING

DEAR HATES: I would see a lot less of them. But if you don't want to break up the friend ship (this is a friendship?) tell them in a friendly tone that their constant talk about money is boring, so to please soft pedal it. And if you should lose their friendship, you'll not have lost much.

DEAR ABBY: To that woman who scouted all the churches in town in search of a man and finally found one, you said, "Some people go to church to pray," after which I thought you were going to add, "and some people go to church to prey."

ARDYTH ULLMAN

DEAR ARDYTH: Had I thought of it, I might have.

DEAR ABBY: Your answer to Happy In Houston, "Some people go to church to pray-others go to pray they meet someone," set me to thinking about the other reasons people may have for going to church.

Here is a list, which I think is complete:

1. Habit
2. Training.
3. Fear of punishment from the Lord if they don't go.
4. To see who else is there.
5. To be seen.
6. To get spiritual inspiration.
7. To socialize.

Notice, Abby, I did not put down "to pray." One can pray anywhere.

HONORED—One of the highest employee awards offered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture was presented to Lucille M. Wilson, 8105 Bowers Rd., Amanda, by Robert E. Quilliam, state conservationist for the SCS in Ohio, at the agency's fourth annual statewide awards assembly in Columbus May 31. Mrs. Wilson is district secretary for the U.S. Soil Conservation Service in Bremen and "has continuously performed above the requirements of her position," according to Quilliam. She was one of five SCS people in Ohio to receive the outstanding performance rating and award for exceptional effort in conservation of soil and water related resources.

Soybean Exports Face Competition

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soybean exports to Japan may match last year's record despite a sharp drop during the first four months of 1974, but U.S. farmers are facing a growing competition in that lucrative foreign market, the Agriculture Department said today.

Current forecasts put U.S. soybean sales to Japan in calendar 1974 at 3.27 million metric tons, about two per cent more than last year's record. But a report by the department's Foreign Agricultural Service said exports during the January-April period dipped 20 per cent below a year earlier.

However, the report said, Japan seems to be planning a build-up of soybean reserves in order to prevent another tight supply situation such as plagued the country in 1973. Also, the report said, Japanese consumer demand has been high for soybean oil. Meanwhile, the report said, Brazil has emerged rapidly as an important supplier of soybeans to the Japanese market and can be expected to continue as a competitor of U.S. farmers in the future.

"While soybean imports (by Japan) from Brazil are still dwarfed by those from the United States, they did shoot from a mere 14,800 metric tons in 1972 to 184,800 in 1973," the report said.

The U.S. soybean crop this year is expected to be down slightly from the record of nearly 1.57 billion bushels — nearly 43 million metric tons — in 1973, according to USDA projections. However, the first yield and production estimate by the department will not be made until August.

In calendar 1973, soybean exports were valued at nearly $2.8 billion, up 83 per cent from 1972. Although most of the gain in value was due to higher soybean prices, quantities exported also were up to 486.5 million bushels from 440.8 million in 1972.

Drexel Poling Joins Hummel, Plum Agency

Drexel Poling, 472 Edwards Road, has joined the staff of Hummel and Plum Insurance Company. Poling has been licensed in all lines of insurance sales since 1968 and has worked during summer and part time with both the Celina Insurance Company and the Hummel and Plum firm.

DREXEL POLING

He is a native of Pickaway County and a 1964 graduate of Logan Elm High School. A graduate of Miami University, he has been employed by the Teays Valley School District for the past six years as band director.

Poling has been very active in community affairs as a former 4-H advisor and 4-H band director. He was a member of 4-H clubs himself for over 11 years. He has served as a water safety instructor for the Red Cross for the past nine years and has directed the program in Circleville for the past five years. He has also worked as a lifeguard at Goldcliff for five years. He is an active member of the BPO Elks Lodge 77.

The new salesman is the son of Sterling Poling, co-owner of the Hummel and Plum agency and is married to the former Sheila Eitel, also a native of Pickaway County.

Hummel and Plum is celebrating its 70th anniversary this year. The agency has been in existence since July, 1904.

Ohio AAA Raps Tax Proposal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio chapter of the American Automobile Association has gone on record opposing proposed elimination of federal income tax reductions for state-imposed gasoline taxes.

The effect of such a proposal would be $1 billion in additional income taxes paid by motorists nationally, the organization said in a statement.

"The Ohio AAA and its affiliated clubs strongly protest any such backdoor approach to legislation of what amounts to a tax increase on 16 million AAA members in the United States," the association said.

OSU Awaits Decision On Center

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It should be known in a few weeks whether Ohio State University has been selected as the site of a new national cancer research center, officials say.

Dr. Richard Meiling, vice president for medical affairs at OSU, said a team of advisors from the National Institute of Health spent three days at the OSU Medical Center last week evaluating proposals and facilities.

It was the third such visit to the OSU campus by institute advisors, Meiling said.

The first group of advisors recommended OSU for the center, he said, but the second group did not.

So in an unusual practice, the institute suspended the decision by the second team until one more evaluation was made, Meiling said.

He said he expected a final decision by July 1.

"When a site team comes to a place and recommends it, then a group who's never been here overrides that decision, something is not being played according to rules and regulations," he said.

"I think we're getting it straightened out," he said.

At stake are tens of millions of dollars in research grants to Ohio State to pay for scientists, technologists, equipment and other things necessary for big league cancer research.

Westinghouse Layoffs Slated

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The third layoff this year due to manufacturing schedule cutbacks has been announced by the Westinghouse Plant here.

W.G. Bleakley, personnel relations manager, said 100 production workers will be laid off June 28.

With 3,000 employees, the plant is the largest employer in the city.

The plant makes kitchen and laundry equipment.

Fullen Attends Banking School

Richard W. Fullen of the Third National Bank attended the 21st annual session of the Ohio School of Banking. The session was held June 9-14 on the Ohio University campus in Athens.

A record of 286 banker-students were in attendance. The objective of the school is to train bankers in all areas of bank operations and management and to help each to better service his community.

"to dedicate itself by social and educational means to the conservation and propagation of the fish, game and wildlife of the State of Ohio and throughout the United States of America; to support true sportsmanship among those who hunt and fish in a lawful and legal manner . . . To promote and encourage better understanding among the members and the general public as to the proper use of boats, camps, camp furnishings, hunting and fishing equipment . . ."

David Massie, 706 S. Clinton St.; William H. Clark, Jr., 1116 McGraw Rd.; and Dick E. Redman, Route 1, Stoutsville, will serve the corporation as trustees.

David L. Kraft, 11 E. Main St., Ashville, has been appointed to act as statutory agent for the organization.

Soybean Exports Face Competition

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soybean exports to Japan may match last year's record despite a sharp drop during the first four months of 1974, but U.S. farmers are facing a growing competition in that lucrative foreign market, the Agriculture Department said today.

Current forecasts put U.S. soybean sales to Japan in calendar 1974 at 3.27 million metric tons, about two per cent more than last year's record. But a report by the department's Foreign Agricultural Service said exports during the January-April period dipped 20 per cent below a year earlier.

However, the report said, Japan seems to be planning a build-up of soybean reserves in order to prevent another tight supply situation such as plagued the country in 1973. Also, the report said, Japanese consumer demand has been high for soybean oil. Meanwhile, the report said, Brazil has emerged rapidly as an important supplier of soybeans to the Japanese market and can be expected to continue as a competitor of U.S. farmers in the future.

"While soybean imports (by Japan) from Brazil are still dwarfed by those from the United States, they did shoot from a mere 14,800 metric tons in 1972 to 184,800 in 1973," the report said.

The U.S. soybean crop this year is expected to be down slightly from the record of nearly 1.57 billion bushels — nearly 43 million metric tons — in 1973, according to USDA projections. However, the first yield and production estimate by the department will not be made until August.

In calendar 1973, soybean exports were valued at nearly $2.8 billion, up 83 per cent from 1972. Although most of the gain in value was due to higher soybean prices, quantities exported also, were up to 486.5 million bushels from 440.8 million in 1972.

Drexel Poling Joins Hummel, Plum Agency

Drexel Poling, 472 Edwards Road, has joined the staff of Hummel and Plum Insurance Company. Poling has been licensed in all lines of insurance sales since 1968 and has worked during summer and part time with both the Celina Insurance Company and the Hummel and Plum firm.

DREXEL POLING

He is a native of Pickaway County and a 1964 graduate of Logan Elm High School. A graduate of Miami University, he has been employed by the Teays Valley School District for the past six years as band director.

Poling has been very active in community affairs as a former 4-H advisor and 4-H band director. He was a member of 4-H clubs himself for over 11 years. He has served as a water safety instructor for the Red Cross for the past nine years and has directed the program in Circleville for the past five years. He has also worked as a lifeguard at Goldcliff for five years. He is an active member of the BPO Elks Lodge 77.

The new salesman is the son of Sterling Poling, co-owner of the Hummel and Plum agency and is married to the former Sheila Eitel, also a native of Pickaway County.

Hummel and Plum is celebrating its 70th anniversary this year. The agency has been in existence since July, 1904.

Ohio AAA Raps Tax Proposal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio chapter of the American Automobile Association has gone on record opposing proposed elimination of federal income tax reductions for state-imposed gasoline taxes.

The effect of such a proposal would be $1 billion in additional income taxes paid by motorists nationally, the organization said in a statement.

"The Ohio AAA and its affiliated clubs strongly protest any such backdoor approach to legislation of what amounts to a tax increase on 16 million AAA members in the United States," the association said.

OSU Awaits Decision On Center

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It should be known in a few weeks whether Ohio State University has been selected as the site of a new national cancer research center, officials say.

Dr. Richard Meiling, vice president for medical affairs at OSU, said a team of advisors from the National Institute of Health spent three days at the OSU Medical Center last week evaluating proposals and facilities.

It was the third such visit to the OSU campus by institute advisors, Meiling said.

The first group of advisors recommended OSU for the center, he said, but the second group did not.

So in an unusual practice, the institute suspended the decision by the second team until one more evaluation was made, Meiling said.

He said he expected a final decision by July 1.

"When a site team comes to a place and recommends it, then a group who's never been here overrides that decision, something is not being played according to rules and regulations," he said.

"I think we're getting it straightened out," he said.

At stake are tens of millions of dollars in research grants to Ohio State to pay for scientists, technologists, equipment and other things necessary for big league cancer research.

Westinghouse Layoffs Slated

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The third layoff this year due to manufacturing schedule cutbacks has been announced by the Westinghouse Plant here.

W.G. Bleakley, personnel relations manager, said 100 production workers will be laid off June 28.

With 3,000 employees, the plant is the largest employer in the city.

The plant makes kitchen and laundry equipment.

Fullen Attends Banking School

Richard W. Fullen of the Third National Bank attended the 21st annual session of the Ohio School of Banking. The session was held June 9-14 on the Ohio University campus in Athens.

A record of 286 banker-students were in attendance. The objective of the school is to train bankers in all areas of bank operations and management and to help each to better service his community.

Say Jurors Served Alcoholic Drinks Before Deliberations

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Defense attorneys say they will file affidavits from a bartender and waitress who claim they served alcoholic beverages to jurors hours before they found James Hall, 20, guilty of second degree murder.

In an amended appeal for a new trial, the lawyers claim a majority of the jurors was served alcohol at the University Athletic Club when they recessed their deliberations to eat supper.

Hall, former University of Iowa student from Toledo, Ohio, was convicted in the March 13, 1973 slaying of Sarah Ann Ottens, 20, a university nursing student from Morrison, Ill.

The case went to the jury on the afternoon of May 23. Jurors later ate supper at the club and afterward deliberated another two hours before returning their verdict, the lawyers said.

A hearing is set for Tuesday when District Court Judge Louis Schultz will hear a 43-point defense motion filed last Thursday for a new trial.

The information concerning the alcoholic beverages was not included in the original motion because it didn't come to light until later, said defense attorneys William Tucker and Bruce Walker, both of Iowa City.

Tucker said Sunday he had originally heard of the alleged consumption of alcohol shortly after the trial ended. He said he checked the report and received "erroneous information," but later received a telephone call from a club member who said he had witnessed the alleged drinking.

Tucker didn't specify Sunday when he would file the affidavits.

Hall is being held in the Johnson County jail in lieu of $50,000 bond. Sentencing is set for Thursday.

3 Questioned In Bank Break

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Two men and a 17-year-old girl were questioned today about a breakin at the Vinton branch of the First National Bank of Gallipolis.

The three were in a car stopped at a road block on Ohio 13 near Glouster in Athens County. Their names were not released.

Deputies said the bank's alarm sounded at 3:05 a.m. in the Gallia County sheriff's office. Investigation determined the bank was entered but that the vault was not entered and no money was taken.

Deputies had requested road blocks in five southeastern Ohio counties and in Mason County, W. Va.

Logistics Chief Retires Sept. 1

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Gen. Jack Catton will retire Sept. 1 as head of the Air Force Logistics Command at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base.

A base spokesman said Friday Catton will be replaced by Lt. Gen. William V. McBride, now in charge of the Air Training Command at Randolph Air Force Base, Texas.

Catton, 54, flew the first B29 bomber across the Pacific to the Mariana Islands in 1944.

Industrial Output Shows Rise In May

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's industrial production capacity shows signs of shaking off the slump brought on by the Arab oil embargo.

The Federal Reserve Board reported on Friday that industrial output, boosted by a reviving automobile industry, rose for the second month in a row in May.

The latest rise was four-tenths of 1 per cent. Output rose three-tenths of 1 per cent in April after four straight months of decline.

Although output is strengthening, the May index of 125.4 stood four-tenths of 1 per cent above a year earlier, but below the 127.5 index for November when the impact of the embargo hit.

Problems Seen In Natural Gas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbia Gas of Ohio says it expects more difficulty in meeting demand for natural gas in the next five years.

The firm said it will meet its contracts through October with little trouble, but expects to get less gas the next contract year.

"As for the next five years, Columbia foresees no significant easing of the shortage during this period and probabilities are that it will get worse," the company said.

Federal Reserve analysts said production is still shaky on the important raw materials level, but the figures lent some hope that the administration is right in its expectation that current economic miseries are bottoming out, if they haven't already.

The current struggle for industry is to gear up its production to satisfy surging demand. Companies producing metals and other materials for durable goods like automobiles rose slightly. Auto production itself was up almost 3 per cent in May to an annual level of 7.7 million cars. Last year at the same time, the industry was humming along at a 10 million-a-year clip.

The increase in production for durable goods suppliers was offset, however, by a decline among the manufacturers who make the basic materials for clothing and other nondurable goods.

Court Upholds Blood Test Ruling

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A certified laboratory technician as well as a physician or a nurse can draw blood used to determine its alcohol content, the Ohio Supreme Court ruled today. It let stand a 5th District Court of Appeals decision overturning a Licking County Common Pleas court opinion that only a physician or a nurse could perform the act.

The trial court had upheld a motion to suppress the blood-alcohol test against George V. Huffman, charged with first degree manslaughter after Clair B. Rubeck was killed in a highway accident July 5, 1973.

Hale Irwin Wins
U.S. Open Crown
With 287 Total

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) — Ladies and gentlemen, introducing the new Open golf champion of the United States: Hale Irwin.

"Hale who?"

"I am not a birdie machine like Jack Nicklaus and Tom Weiskopf," said the clerkish-looking, 29-year-old from Joplin, Mo., after scoring one of the biggest surprises in the 83-year history of America's premier golf championship Sunday.

"I like courses where pars and birdies don't come easy. I just plug along and wait for them to make mistakes. I have something the others don't have and I hope to capitalize on it."

"That was a big tournament—winning it does a lot for me. But I'm not going to change. There will be a reckoning, a re-evaluation. Now that

I've won one, I want to do something bigger. Like two major championships.

"Nicklaus has won 14. That's not a bad goal, is it?"

Patience and a low key defensive attitude enabled Irwin to survive while the greatest champions of the game struggled vainly and even collapsed in a four-day wrangle with a 6,961-yard monster called Winged Foot.

Irwin's final round 73 for a 72-hole total of 287, seven over par, was two strokes better than a second longshot,
Forrest "Fuzzy" Feszler, who fired 70
for 289, with Bert Yancey and Lou Graham, following with 290.

What happened to Arnold Palmer,
Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and other titans of the game? Palmer, 44, starting the final round three shots off the lead, had seven bogeys and a single birdie for a 76. He finished at 292, tied with Jim Colbert and the 54-hole leader, young Tom Watson, who blew to a 79.

The reigning Masters champion, Player, who led after 18 and shared the lead at 36, never found the track and finished at 293. Nicklaus rallied with a last round 69 but posted 294, 14 over par, saying, "It's a great course, I just never got to playing well."

Bayless And South

Defeat North, 73-70

MARION, Ohio (AP) — Mike Bayless of Chillicothe poured in 22 points to lead the South to a 73-70 victory over the North in the annual North-South Cage Classic in Marion.

The North led through most of the game, except for a brief South surge in the third period. But the South finally went ahead with three minutes to play, 67-66. With 1:30 to play, the South went into a stall that iced the lead.

Hydroplane Race

Scheduled Today

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP) — Seven hydroplanes were scheduled to compete in the sixth annual Governor's Cup Regatta here today, after high waters and a collision forced postponement of the race Sunday.

Driver Charlie Dunn of Miami, Fla., was hospitalized with a cracked rib and pelvic bruises after his craft, Just-A-Pest III, spun around into the path of Mister Fabricator, piloted by Tom Kaufman of Carrollton, Ohio. Dunn was listed in satisfactory condition.

Hale Irwin Wins U.S. Open Crown With 287 Total

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) — Ladies and gentlemen, introducing the new Open golf champion of the United States: Hale Irwin.

"Hale who?"

"I am not a birdie machine like Jack Nicklaus and Tom Weiskopf," said the clerkish-looking, 29-year-old from Joplin, Mo., after scoring one of the biggest surprises in the 83-year history of America's premier golf championship Sunday.

"I like courses where pars and birdies don't come easy. I just plug along and wait for others to make mistakes. I have something the others don't have and I hope to capitalize on it."

"That was a big tournament—winning it does a lot for my ego. But I'm not going to change. There will be a reckoning, a re-evaluation. Now that I've won one, I want to do something bigger. Like two major championships."

"Nicklaus has won 14. That's not a bad goal, is it?"

Patience and a low key defensive attitude enabled Irwin to survive while the greatest champions of the game struggled vainly and even collapsed in a four-day wrangle with a 6,961-yard monster called Winged Foot.

Irwin's final round 73 for a 72-hole total of 287, seven over par, was two strokes better than a second longshot, Forrest "Fuzzy" Feszler, who fired 70 for 289, with Bert Yancey and Lou Graham, following with 290.

What happened to Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and other titans of the game? Palmer, 44, starting the final round three shots off the lead, had seven bogeys and a single birdie for a 76. He finished at 292, tied with Jim Colbert and the 54-hole leader, young Tom Watson, who blew to a 79.

The reigning Masters champion, Player, who led after 18 and shared the lead at 36, never found the track and finished at 293. Nicklaus rallied with a last round 69 but posted 294, 14 over par, saying, "It's a great course, I just never got to playing well."

The defending champion, Johnny Miller, who electrified the game with a record 63 in winning a year ago at Oakmont, Pa., closed with a 77 for 302. Five former champions didn't survive the cut.

Only two players broke 290 and only 25 were able to beat 300.

Carroll, Reds Blank Phils

CINCINNATI (AP) — Veteran Cincinnati Reds reliever Clay Carroll is staying off old age with a slider and a swagger.

"He's proof you don't need a great fastball to survive," said Philadelphia's home run slugger Mike Schmidt after Carroll turned in one of the finest efforts of his career Sunday.

Summoned to start as a last-minute replacement for Roger Nelson, the 33-year-old "dean" of the Reds hurling crew fired eight innings of shutout ball before retiring. The Reds won 5-0.

It's old hat for "The Hawk," whose advancing years put him on the trading block last winter.

"I ain't bragging, but it seems like every time when we're in a situation like this, I'm the one," crowed Carroll, whose cocky walk is a trademark of his confidence.

A year ago, with the Reds floundering and his earned run average soaring, Carroll climbed out of a slump with a sensational stint as a starter.

His 1.61 ERA in five games as a starter helped untrack the faltering Reds and re-sharpened the skills of the durable bullpen artist.

"Last year, this really got him straightened out," said Reds Manager George "Sparky" Anderson.

The six-hit effort may have thrust Carroll into a starting role again. A suddenly unsound staff may hasten the move.

"We have to give a lot of consideration to starting him," said Anderson. Nelson's injury is the third in recent weeks to a starter... Jack Billingham, a 19-game winner last year, has been ineffective lately with a tender shoulder. Lefty Fred Norman makes his first start in two weeks tonight since pulling a rib muscle.

"I knew I had to pace myself," said Carroll, now 4-1 for the season. A heavy swath of bandage covered his shoulder and chest as he gulped a wedge of watermelon.

"I had to take myself out after the eighth. I guess I used some muscles I haven't used in a long time," grinned the happy-go-lucky Alabamian.

The stiffening prevented him from posting only his second career shutout. That came in 1967 with the Atlanta Braves. It was against the Phils. Sunday's start was the first since June 8 of last season and only the 23rd of his 551-game career.

"My slider was really working. It's my best pitch," he said. Schmidt, the Phillies bullstrong power hitter, agreed.

"He's not overpowering. He just hits his spots and uses his head," he said. Despite the rush of glory, Carroll said he prefers to stay in the bullpen.

"That's home. I bear down more with men on base. But I just want to work. I'm a real sourpuss around here when I'm not pitching."

Carroll got all the support he needed in the first inning when Joe Morgan cracked a solo homer off loser Dick Ruthven, 2-4.

A bases-loaded single by Dave Concepcion padded the lead with two more runs in the sixth.

Catcher Johnny Bench extended his hitting streak to 12 with a bunt single. It is the longest streak by a Red this season.

The Reds open a three-game series with Montreal Expos tonight with Norman, 5-5, facing 1973 sensation Steve Rogers, 7-6. Rogers was 10-5 in just half a season and finished a brilliant 1.54 ERA.

The game is scheduled to be nationally televised.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers thumped Tom Seaver and the New York Mets 7-1, the St. Louis Cardinals downed the Atlanta Braves 6-3, the Pittsburgh Pirates vacated the East Division cellar by edging the San Francisco Giants 4-3, the Montreal Expos outslugged the San Diego Padres 9-8 and the Chicago Cubs nipped the Houston Astros 2-1 in 10 innings.

Dodgers 7, Mets 1

Andy Messersmith pitched a five-hitter and Jimmy Wynn triggered a five-run uprising with a seventh-inning triple, sending Seaver to his sixth loss in nine decisions.

Cardinals 6, Braves 3

Ted Sizemore drilled a tiebreaking single in the seventh inning and St. Louis added three decisive runs in the ninth on a bases-loaded walk to Ted Simmons and Joe Torre's two-run single. Darrel Evans had tied it for the Braves in the sixth on a solo homer off winner Lynn McGlothen.

Pirates 4, Giants 3

Jim Rooker survived a three-run first inning and went on to pitch a five-hitter, lifting the Pirates out of the East Division cellar for the first time since April 25. They are one game ahead of the Mets and seven behind the Phillies.

Expos 9, Padres 8

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR TUESDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): You can put distinguished finishing touches on an important project now. And those who were previously "on the fence" will come over to your side.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Excellent Venus influences! Inspiration at a peak. A unique idea you have can be carried out with just the right touch of ingenuity to make it work.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Pull down undesirable barriers; recognize real obstacles to your progress. Then, with everything in clear focus, you can plan your strategy more effectively.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Some complications indicated in financial matters. Don't let false pride keep you from asking advice if you're unable to cope.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Your perceptiveness not quite as keen as usual. Care! Be sure to take all factors into account when sizing up unexpected situations.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): You will have access to some unusual gains now if you move with forethought and know-how. Mercury, propitious, stimulates your ingenuity and intuition.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Excellent prospects for starting or developing new business associations. An unusual idea could spark an entirely different approach in monetary matters, also.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): A bit of news received unexpectedly could have a happy impact on your financial status; may concern a sound but long-range investment proposition.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Day calls for careful decisions, well considered moves, evenness of disposition. Give your imagination some leeway, of course, but don't go to extremes.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Avoid tendencies to procrastinate. Handle all matters in the order of their importance. Evening hours excellent for social activities and romance.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Use tact and poise in dealing with the opposite sex. This could be the key to solving even the most difficult of problems. Note new trends.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Continue toward your goals even if you have not yet achieved positive results. An influential friend may lend a helping hand.

YOU BORN TODAY are a highly energetic and enthusiastic individual, always optimistic and, if living at your best, a born achiever. But you are restless and, changeable, too. When you get a new idea — which is frequently — you act upon it immediately and zestfully, but may drop the whole thing as soon as your interest wanes. This is the Gemini's besetting sin. Try to curb! You are extremely versatile; could excel at writing, music, science, the law, politics, the theater or, in the commercial world, as a banker — in which case, you would be tops since new places and new people fascinate you. In fact, the "new" always beckons the Gemini — and he goes when he is called. Birthdate of: M. Daladier, French statesman; E. G. Marshall and Richard Boone, film and TV stars.

Europe Trusts Switzerland

GENEVA (AP) — High regard for the Swiss continues as Switzerland emerged as the most trusted nation in a poll conducted in France, Germany, Italy, Holland and Belgium by Ronald Inglehart of Michigan State University and David Handley, University of Geneva, in cooperation with the European Community Information Center.

In a field of eight countries Switzerland ranked first with a trust rating of 78 per cent against a negative total of 11 per cent. In the poll, taken at the end of 1972, the U.S. received a favorable rating of 69 per cent against 23 per cent unfavorable.

Rent Campers

NEW YORK (AP) — Camping families who want to travel long distances can save both time and money by driving or flying to a distant location and renting a camping unit. Writing in the 1974 edition of the Rand McNally Campground and Trailer Park Guide, author Connie B. Howes advises that destination-mental is a means of avoiding the investment-maintenance cost of owning a camper. It also leaves more time for exploring the area the camper wants to visit.

More than 1 million families — representing an estimated 30 per cent of all recreational vehicle trips in 1973 — rented tent and travel trailer, pick-up truck and motor home campers last year.

The first air transport of mail in Canada was made in 1918 by Capt. Brian Peck, who flew from Montreal to Toronto with 120 letters.

Views On Television

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It seems an unlikely association, but producer James Komack swears the idea for "Chico and the Man" began to come to him while directing in Mexico.

"Chico and the Man" is a new NBC comedy series about the stormy relationship between a high-spirited young Chicano and an embittered old Anglo who runs a garage.

"While I was in Mexico I began to learn to speak Spanish," Komack said. "I came back here and discovered we live in a foreign land. This was Mexican land. I began to study the language, and it was easy because there's no place you can go here and not be able to speak Spanish."

"As I got more involved I discovered the barrio and finally I discovered Chico. What I did was put him with the old man."

The mixture is an explosively comic one in the vein of "All in the Family" and "Sanford and Son." The show will follow "Sanford and Son" on Friday nights in the fall. The old man, played by Oscar winner Jack Albertson, is an Archie Bunker-type. He doesn't bother with Chicano when "spic" will do. Chico is played by Freddie Prinze. "Our basic conflict is that the old man has given up on life. He looks at the world bitterly," said Komack, a one-time actor on Broadway and in "Hennessey" who also created "The Courtship of Eddie's Father." The reaction of the Mexican-

American community to the series has not been overwhelming. Not because of the content, but because Freddie Prinze is a Puerto Rican. A Chicano is, of course an American of Mexican descent.

Komack defends Prinze as the best actor for the role. He said, "In trying to find Chico, we held open auditions. We contacted all the activist groups and we auditioned every Chicano available. We narrowed it down to five people, two Chicanos, two Puerto Ricans and a Cuban. "When we tested them the chemistry between Jack Albertson and Freddie Prinze was perfect. That's why he got the part. He and Jack made it happen."

Homemaker Seeks Help

NEW YORK (AP) — Ensuring variety and nutrition in each meal is a difficult task, according to an in-depth study of homemakers conducted for Hoffmann-La Roche Inc. "The food industry bears the responsibility for giving the homemaker the guidance she needs," said John Gage, Roche food-nutrition marketing manager. "And one of the best ways is easier-to-understand food labels with clearer nutritional information."

The first weightlifting world championships were held in London in 1891.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Your perceptiveness not quite as keen as usual. Care! Be sure to take all factors into account when sizing up unexpected situations.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): You will have access to some unusual gains now if you move with forethought and know-how. Mercury, propitious, stimulates your ingenuity and intuition.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Excellent prospects for starting or developing new business associations. An unusual idea could spark an entirely different approach in monetary matters, also.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): A bit of news received unexpectedly could have a happy impact on your financial status; may concern a sound but long-range investment proposition.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Day calls for careful decisions, well considered moves, evenness of disposition. Give your imagination some leeway, of course, but don't go to extremes.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Avoid tendencies to procrastinate. Handle all matters in the order of their importance. Evening hours excellent for social activities and romance.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Use tact and poise in dealing with the opposite sex. This could be the key to solving even the most difficult of problems. Note new trends.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Continue toward your goals even if you have not yet achieved positive results. An influential friend may lend a helping hand.

YOU BORN TODAY are a highly energetic and enthusiastic individual, always optimistic and, if living at your best, a born achiever. But you are restless and, changeable, too. When you get a new idea — which is frequently — you act upon it immediately and zestfully, but may drop the whole thing as soon as your interest wanes. This is the Geminian's besetting sin. Try to curb! You are extremely versatile; could excel at writing, music, science, the law, politics, the theater or, in the commercial world, as a banker — in which case, you would be tops since new places and new people fascinate you. In fact, the "new" always beckons the Geminian — and he goes when he is called. Birthdate of: M. Daladier, French statesman; E. G. Marshall and Richard Boone, film and TV stars.

Europe Trusts Switzerland

GENEVA (AP) — High regard for the Swiss continues as Switzerland emerged as the most trusted nation in a poll conducted in France, Germany, Italy, Holland and Belgium by Ronald Inglehart of Michigan State University and David Handley, University of Geneva, in cooperation with the European Community Information Center.

In a field of eight countries Switzerland ranked first with a trust rating of 78 per cent against a negative total of 11 per cent. In the poll, taken at the end of 1972, the U.S. received a favorable rating of 69 per cent against 23 per cent unfavorable.

Rent Campers

NEW YORK (AP) — Camping families who want to travel long distances can save both time and money by driving or flying to a distant location and renting a camping unit. Writing in the 1974 edition of the Rand McNally Campground and Trailer Park Guide, author Connie B. Howes advises that destination-rental is a means of avoiding the investment-maintenance cost of owning a camper. It also leaves more time for exploring the area the camper wants to visit.

More than 1 million families — representing an estimated 30 per cent of all recreational vehicle trips in 1973 — rented tent and travel trailer, pick-up truck and motor home campers last year.

The first air transport of mail in Canada was made in 1918 by Capt. Brian Peck, who flew from Montreal to Toronto with 120 letters.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It seems an unlikely association, but producer James Komack swears the idea for "Chico and the Man" began to come to him while directing in Mexico.

"Chico and the Man" is a new NBC comedy series about the stormy relationship between a high-spirited young Chicano and an embittered old Anglo who runs a garage.

"While I was in Mexico I began to learn to speak Spanish," Komack said. "I came back here and discovered we live in a foreign land. This was Mexican land. I began to study the language, and it was easy because there's no place you can go here and not be able to speak Spanish."

"As I got more involved I discovered the barrio and finally I discovered Chico. What I did was put him with the old man."

The mixture is an explosively comic one in the vein of "All in the Family" and "Sanford and Son." The show will follow "Sanford and Son" on Friday nights in the fall.

The old man, played by Oscar winner Jack Albertson, is an Archie Bunker-type. He doesn't bother with Chicano when "spic" will do. Chico is played by Freddie Prinze.

"Our basic conflict is that the old man has given up on life. He looks at the world bitterly," said Komack, a one-time actor on Broadway and in "Hennessey" who also created "The Courtship of Eddie's Father."

The reaction of the Mexican-

American community to the series has not been overwhelming. Not because of the content, but because Freddie Prinze is a Puerto Rican. A Chicano is, of course an American of Mexican descent.

Komack defends Prinze as the best actor for the role. He said, "In trying to find Chico, we held open auditions. We contacted all the activist groups and we auditioned every Chicano available. We narrowed it down to five people, two Chicanos, two Puerto Ricans and a Cuban."

"When we tested them the chemistry between Jack Albertson and Freddie Prinze was perfect. That's why he got the part. He and Jack made it happen."

"When the Chicanos saw the show they agreed that with experience and training Freddie would be a proper representative of the Chicanos."

Homemaker Seeks Help

NEW YORK (AP) — Ensuring variety and nutrition in each meal is a difficult task, according to an in-depth study of homemakers conducted for Hoffmann-La Roche Inc.

"The food industry bears the responsibility for giving the homemaker the guidance she needs," said John Gage, Roche food-nutrition marketing manager. "And one of the best ways is easier-to-understand food labels with clearer nutritional information."

Farm Bureau Awards Scholarships To Youth

The Pickaway County Farm Bureau has awarded scholarships to eight area young people to help in sending them to the Southeast Region Farm Bureau Youth Conference.

The conference is scheduled June 16-21 at Otterbein College in Westerville.

Winners of the scholarships are Susan Stevenson, Debbie Betz, Tammy Martin, Molly Hamrick, Tom Scherer, John Hoffman, Greg Stevens, and David Rittinger.

Dale Bower, president of the Pickaway County Farm Bureau, said that more than 100 teenagers from more than 20 counties will attend the conference.

"The program is geared to the theme, 'Farm Bureau in Action' and is planned as an educational experience with ample organized recreation for the youths' enjoyment," he said.

Also, group discussions on how state government operates will be held. A mock House of Representatives will be set up, and the young people will move a simulated bill through the legislature and its committees, to become final law.

Personnel Is Planned Topic For City Board

The tentative superintendent's report to the Circleville Board of Education for Wednesday evening's meeting includes resignations and employment recommendations for both certified and non-certified personnel.

Additional extra-curricular assignments will also be considered along with a salary scale for part-time custodians.

The board will consider the purchase of a refrigerator for the Atwater lunch room and the blacktopping on the Corwin Street side of the junior high building. Bids for the tennis courts at the high school and South Court Elementary are to be considered as bids are due by noon Wednesday.

Closing of the Wayne Township property sale is June 24.

The work schedule for the non-certified personnel is to be presented to the board by Superintendent Fritz Jacobs.

An adjourned meeting for the first part of July will be presented for consideration to review additional personnel recommendations.

Additions and deletions to both the superintendent's report and the board's agenda may be made prior to the start of the meeting at 8 p.m. noted Jacobs.

Increase Included In Checks

The second part of a two-step increase in monthly social security benefits will be included in checks delivered in July, according to Harry B. Bieber, social security district manager in Chillicothe.

The overall increase will amount to 11 per cent for most people getting social security payments. A 7 per cent increase was included in checks starting in April. "The increase will enhance the financial security of about 30 million people who get social security benefits", Mr. Bieber said.

People getting social security checks don't have to do anything to get the higher payments. The increase will be added automatically.

Starting in July, average social security retirement payments will go from $161 to $181 a month. Average social security disability payments will go from $184 to $206 a month. Average survivors payments to a widowed mother with two children in her care will go from $418 to $435 a month.

For 1974 the amount of yearly earnings subject to social security deductions has been increased from the first $10,800 to the first $13,200, but there is no increase in the contribution rate. Employees and employers will continue to pay 5.85 per cent each on covered earnings, and the rate for self-employed people drops to 7.9 per cent.

The Social Security Administration is an agency of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. The Chillicothe social security office is at 606 Central Center, Chillicothe. The phone number is 775-4950. The office is open to the public from 8:45 a.m.-4:45 p.m., Monday thru Friday.
